LINDY PLANS REST IN HOSPITAL?

HEAD OF MINER'S UNION TESTIFIES BEFORE PROBERS

Rogers Suggests How G. O. P. Could Escape Exposures

(International News Service)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 7.—Congressman Green, chairman of the ways and means committee and in favor of strong inheritance taxes for the rich, has been made some kind of judge at an increased salary.

It's funny the administration never thought of giving Borah or Jim Reed, or Walsh some judgeship where it would keep them from ferreting out so much Republican development.

I'll bet all three of them could get appointments to the supreme bench tomorrow if they would take it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA. NEWC OBSERVES

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kerr of 304 North Beaver street, who will celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary on Saturday, have reached the stage in life that it is the privilege of very few individuals to observe. Golden weddings are not uncommon, but sixtieth wedding anniversaries are seldom experienced. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr are to be congratulated and on behalf of a great host of friends Pa Newc extends felicitations.

That New Castle is the largest city between Chicago and Philadelphia on the new cross continental route, the Ben Franklin highway, is pointed out by local boosters. What this means is apparent. It means the addition of thousands of tourists to the great traffic that already flows through this city during the summer months. The Ben Franklin highway has but one or two small stretches of unpaved highway and when these are joined it will probably be the preferred route across the country as it has advantages that other routes do not have, being laid out to avoid the metropolitan areas.

New Castle junior and senior high school pupils and the pupils of township high schools are today hearing Richard Crooks noted tenor in a number of concert programs as a result of the work of the Educational Arts organization and its supporters in this city. The children get the benefit of the appearance here of this noted artist without cost to them. The Educational Arts organization is doing much to develop a desire for high class music on the part of New Castle school children by the system that is being observed.

Thirty-seven operators of the Penn-Ohio system located in this city who are being cited for having a record without a chargeable accident during the past year, have achieved something that is worth while. With the great amount of traffic on the streets and highways today it is a feat to go through a year without an accident when obliged to be on the streets hour after hour as these operators are required to.

Accepting of bids for the additional piece of fire fighting apparatus for this city which is soon to be procured, turns attention again to the improvement being made in the fire departments here, in the erection of the new fire station on South Jefferson street. While progress on this building appears to have been slow it is expected that the building will be ready for use of the Central firemen early in the summer.

Contrary to the popular belief the age of chivalry did not die with the Crusades. Sometimes and somewhere one can meet an old man with the etiquette of the 17th century. Yesterday afternoon on the South Side this was shown. The puddle was a wide one and Miss 1928 stood at one side of it cudgeling her brains for some way to get across. An old man came along and without ado, picked the young thing up and carried her across not

John L. Lewis Testifies Before Senate Probers

Charges Strike Is Attempt Of Operators To Destroy Miners' Union

LEWIS IS FIRST WITNESS CALLED

Remedies Are Urged For Coal Industry By Lewis Before Body

By KENNETH CLARK,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—A picture of alleged brutality, terrorism and untold suffering in the strike torn soft coal fields was unfolded before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee today by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Lewis was the first witness at the committee's general investigation into conditions in the Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia bituminous fields.

"The tales of outrage and tyranny that come from the non-union coal fields have weakened respect for government everywhere," Lewis declared.

To Destroy Union

The purpose of the big non-union operators, Lewis charged, is "to break the morale of the striking miners and to destroy the union".

"The open minded citizen recognizes that these attempts to batter down fair wages, to lengthen the work day and to practically enslave mine workers in isolated mining camps is directly opposite to the American point of view and out of gear with American economic thought and American life," he said.

"The acts of the non union interests are not merely an assault upon American government, a substitution of the dictatorship of ownership purposes of the American people as enacted in tariff and immigration laws."

Urges Remedies

He urged the following remedies to stabilize the highly over developed coal industry:

"1—The uneconomic mines must be closed and closed for good;

"2—Unscientific freight rates must be wiped off the tariff books;

"3—The perpetual strife and conflict within the industry must give way to labor relations on a par with those which have achieved comparative peace in other trades;

"4—Above all the American constitution must mean what it says in every coal fields of America."

Coolidge Would Not Intervene In Coal Strike

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—President Coolidge in 1925 refused to intervene to compel soft coal operators to live up to the Jacksonville wage agreement with the miners, John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, revealed today at the Senate Interstate Commerce committee's investigation of the coal strike.

Lewis appealed to the president to use his influence "to maintain the morality and integrity" of the agreement.

President Coolidge in reply urged the miners to take their grievances to the courts, saying "you would perform a distinct public service by getting an authoritative court decision on this subject," Lewis said.

ROBBERS ENTER DENTAL OFFICE

Dental office of Dr. J. H. Carpenter, 372 East Washington street, was entered some time during the night, according to the report made to the police this morning and sheet or leaf gold valued at $100 taken.

Detective Logan and Officer Harper were detailed to investigate the case and found that entrance was gained by forcing a door leading into the office of Dr. Carpenter. Nothing else of value was taken.

DEATH RECORD

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis Jones, 89, 402 East Lincoln avenue.

Baxter Anderson, 76, 840 Almira avenue.

Mrs. Rachel Long Everhart, 68, Erie, Pa.

NICARAGUAN POLICY IS GIVEN APPROVAL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The administration's policy of keeping U. S. marines in Nicaragua was given what amounted to a vote of confidence today by the Senate foreign relations committee.

The committee voted unanimously to reject the resolution sponsored by Senator Heflin (D) of Alabama, which would instruct the President to withdraw the marines immediately.

NEW POSTMASTER FOR GROVE CITY

Civil Service Commission To Have Examination For Candidates

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Because Smith A. Mayers, postmaster at Grove City, Mercer county, Pa., did not show sufficient interest in the postoffice the department has determined to make a change there, it is announced.

The civil service commission was today requested to hold an examination for candidates for the office, which pays $3000 a year. Mayers' expired January 24, but it is the present intention to allow him to remain in office until a regular appointment can be made from the eligible list.

A postal inspector recently reported to the department that Mayers' service was unsatisfactory and recommended a change.

Ordinary Frog Lives But Six Months In Glass Jar In High School Test

(International News Service)

FARRELL, Pa., March 7.—A horned toad may live 30 years entombed in a Texas cornerstone, but an ordinary frog died after six months' imprisonment in a glass jar here, Prof. E. M. Mixer of the high school faculty revealed today.

The professor placed two frogs in a glass jar last August. Each day he gave them a fresh water bath. Monday one died. He fed the other yesterday.

Temperature To Drop To Twenty

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—Snow flurries blew over Pittsburgh today, but it was entirely local, the weather bureau said. The only other spot on the map to report snow was Buffalo.

A sharp drop in temperature was expected to strike all of western Pennsylvania today, causing thermometers to drop to 20 degrees at least by tomorrow morning. It was 36 degrees here at eight o'clock this morning, the bureau stated.

Warm weather is expected to follow immediately after the cold snap tomorrow.

FOIL ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY OF STORE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—Three would-be holdup men were put to route here early today when the proprietor of the confectionery they had intended to victimize decided to shoot it out, with them.

The proprietor, J. F. Dornan, furnished police with a description of the men, but a search of the neighborhood failed to reveal trace of them.

SCORE?

For the score of the elimination game tonight at the Pitt stadium, between New Castle high school and Monaca high school, call 4000, the News day exchange number.

The game does not start until 8 o'clock so that it is likely that there will be no score available until 8:45 or thereabouts, which would be about the end of the first half.

Little Interest In Levine Hop

Few Persons Greet Arrival Of Plane In Havana After Flight

WOMAN ENJOYS LONG AIR TRIP

(International News Service)

HAVANA, March 7.—Charles A. Levine, his pilot, Wilmer Stultz, and Miss Mabel Boll, "queen of diamonds", of Rochester, N. Y., who came here as a passenger of the Bellanca monoplane Columbia, were resting up today under balmy southern skies after their 14-hour hop from Mitchel Field, N. Y., yesterday.

The fliers' arrival here created little stir. Only a handful of persons were present when the Columbia swooped down from the sky to the same field where Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had been acclaimed by a frenzied mob a month before.

The trip from Mitchel Field was made at an average speed of exactly 100 miles an hour. When the Columbia landed at 1:36 p. m. there were no customs and immigration officers present on the field and the fliers were delayed until their arrival. Miss Boll showed some annoyance at the delay.

When Levine and his companions reached their hotel in the city they were not recognized, despite Miss Boll's flying helmet. They had made no reservations in advance and were not expected.

Miss Boll said she enjoyed the trip greatly and experienced no discomfort.

The return trip will be made by the Columbia later this week, probably not earlier than tomorrow. It will be made in "easy stages", according to Levine.

KEGARISE GOES FOR HIS PLANE

Will Fly Plane Back To New Castle From Denver, Colorado

Ralph R. Kegarise veteran flyer of the World war and head of the Kegarise Air Transport company left Tuesday for Denver, Colo., for the purpose of securing the first airplane to be used by the local concern in its business, that of transporting express, mail and passengers by air.

He goes to the plant of the Alexander Eagle Rock Air Craft company and will secure the Eagle Rock plane manufactured expressly for the local company. This plane is approved by the department of commerce and is of the latest improved design.

Mr. Kegarise plans to remain in Denver about a week familiarizing himself with the new plane after which he plans to fly it back to this city. He hopes to land here with the company's first machine, the last of next week.

MAKE INSPECTION OF NEW FIRE STATION

Councilman D. O. Davies and Fire Chief Charles Lynn today inspected the building which is being constructed to house fire fighting apparatus in South Jefferson street. When completely built the equipment now in the East street station is to be transferred to the new building.

Workmen are plastering the second floor of the new building and when the building is completed it will be an up-to-date house for municipal equipment.

There is a three-door entrance for equipment on the first floor. The chief's room, alarm booth and repair shop are also located on the first floor and in the rear is a furnace.

The second floor is taken up by a large dormitory room and another section for recreation. There will be no lack of room for beds on the second floor and in the rear will be located locker rooms and lavatories and shower baths.

A hose tower extends from the bottom floor to the roof and will be used to hang hose after fires so that the hase can dry.

It will, however, be some time before the East street equipment is moved to South Jefferson street.

This will result in changes at city hall as the treasury department may be removed to the present police station and the latter be housed in the rooms now occupied by the East street fire station.

Prison Hides Secrets Of Velma West's Life By Her Plea Of Guilt

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

PAINESVILLE, O., March 7.—What caused Mrs. Velma West, 21 with probably years of life ahead of her to accept a life sentence in the woman's reformatory at Marysville, O., rather than go on with her trial?

What caused her lawyers the moment the case was called to spar for a sentence without a word of testimony?

Charged with first degree murder for the killing with hammer blows of her young husband, T. Edward West nurseryman at Perry, O., who towered over her, it had been thought the young widow would plead self defense.

Mysterious Statement.

Then the prosecution made known that it had an eight-page statement from Miss Mabel Young, Cleveland And—both sides agreed to end the case.

It was to Miss Young's home that Velma motored for a card game after the murder, the night of December 6. There she calmly chatted. And as calmly the following day after a shopping tour and her arrest at her mother's house, confessed she killed her husband.

Since then she has kept quiet. No interviewer has been able to shake her silent calm.

Now—not a line of testimony! Why?

Her Counsel's Statement.

Goes To Marysville To Start Serving Life Term For Murder

NO RELATIVES BID FAREWELL AT JAIL

(International News Service)

PAINESVILLE, O., March 7.—Velma West, 21-year-old girl slayer, left the Lake county jail in an automobile for Marysville at 7:30 o'clock this morning to serve life imprisonment.

She posed for flashlight pictures in front of the jail, dressed in a large light gray fur coat and a tight fitting hat.

She carried some magazines in her arm and a vanity case.

After waving goodbye to a small number of acquaintances, mostly reporters, she stepped into the car and was driven away in a heavy snowstorm.

None of the relatives were present.

Young Flying Colonel Is Not Even Disturbed For Cabinet Member

FUTURE PROGRAM IS CAUSING SPECULATION

No Word On Report He Plans To Go To Hospital To Take Rest

COL. LINDBERGH
In Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's plane was still in its hangar at Bolling Field this morning, and Col. Lindbergh himself was secluded in the Racquet Club, neither confirming nor denying reports from Baltimore that he is planning to enter Johns Hopkins hospital for a rest.

The capital has seen nothing of the transatlantic flyer since he swooped out of the misty dawn yesterday morning, completing the fastest aerial round trip to Scott Field, near St Louis, on record. When he arrived at the field, after flying all night Lindbergh said he was tired and wanted a rest. He was taken to the club and there he has remained secluded in his room.

Women Of Federated Clubs Hear Of Work At Annual Meeting

Many Reports Of Various Phases Of Work Given At Meeting Tuesday

STATE PRESIDENT ONE OF SPEAKERS

Mrs. Charles Greer, As President Of Federation, In Charge Of Sessions

Several hundred women attended the meeting of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs which took place Tuesday afternoon and evening in the First Methodist church, with the president Mrs. Charles Greer presiding.

Dr. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the church gave the invocation, followed by the singing of Hail Pennsylvania, and a group of vocal solos by Miss Yettabelle Rosenblum.

Mrs. Charles Greer extended greetings to the guests followed by the routine business. Gratifying reports of the years work were heard from the secretary Miss Mollie Davis, recording secretary, Mrs. W. A. Pond, and treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Raney.

As the city federation merged into a county organization recently the executive board asked that the members endorse the name, County Federation of Women's clubs. Due to a slight misunderstanding this was held over until a later meeting.

Hear Reports

The president then called upon several department chairman for reports, and Miss Rebecca Bowden responded for the publicity committee.

Miss Christine Butler of the Americanization Home told in detail of her work among the foreign element of the city. Children of 12 nationalities come to the home and are eager to learn our ways and customs. The library is an added feature which has proved a great benefit in the work.

Mrs. W. C. Stuart who is in charge of the sewing classes cited numerous incidents where the girls of the school are benefitted by her efforts in teaching them how to sew.

Night school work, under the direction of Miss Ann Aiken deals with another side of the work, taking in the mothers and at the present about 20 are enrolled, who make a great effort to become educated.

Playground Work

As chairman of the playground committee, Mrs. Louis Gordon told of the five playgrounds which were in operation last summer, and of the work accomplished. A great many trees were planted on the grounds, and last summer, the children had individual gardens in which they took great pride.

One of the newer departments to be organized is the Drama depart-

ESCH IS CENTRE OF SENATE BATTLE

Confirmation Of I. C. C. Appointment Brings Big Battle Before Senate

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—With party lines destroyed, the senate was prepared today for a battle over confirmation of John J. Esch, Jr., of Wisconsin as a member of the interstate commerce commission.

An informal poll of sentiment in the senate indicated Esch would be rejected thru a coalition of western insurgents, border state senators of both parties and southern Democrats. His vote on the lake cargo rate case, which favored Pennsylvania and Ohio coal shippers over those of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, was said to have insured his defeat.

The combination opposing Esch apparently had a majority control of the senate, having been instrumental once before in rejecting confirmation of a commission-designate—Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania—who was believed friendly to the Pennsylvania-Ohio coal shippers. Esch also had additional opposition from the insurgent group, who favored his appointment during the Harding administration because they believed him a progressive. Since then, the insurgents have looked upon Esch as a convert to conservatism.

Another move to change the lineup of the commission was made by Senator Neely (D) of West Virginia, who sponsored a bill calling for eight-year terms for interstate commerce commissioners without being eligible for reappointment. The ineligibility clause, Neely believed, would remove the commission from political influence once its members took office.

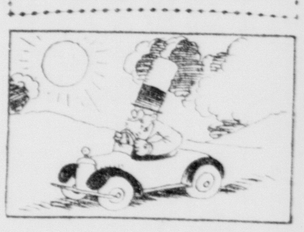

French Aviators Are Near Coast

Le Brix And Costes Leave Rock Springs, Wyoming, Bound For San Francisco

(International News Service)

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., March 7.—Joseph Le Brix and Dieudonne Costes, French around the world flyers planned to take off from here today to continue their trip to San Francisco. After they passed over the flying field at Cheyenne late yeterday it was thought that they were planning to make Salt Lake City before nightfall. Their landing here for the night was a surprise.

The fairways are white with the falling snow, and the tee box is bright with an icy sheen, but underneath all that snowy wrap, there's a stretch of ground that is emerald green. And the snow may cover it yet a while, and the winds may blow with a mighty roar, but a few more weeks or a month at most, the dub will be out there yelling fore. He looks each day at the calendar and sighs with a hope that is deep within, he longs for the day when the greens are dry and the pro says everything's set to begin. It won't be long till the greens are fast, and the fairway green, and the dubs can play, and the golfer sighs for those days to come, the weather is thirty-four today.

LOCAL SOLDIER HAS ENOUGH IN ONE MONTH

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—One month of army life was enough for Private Frank Genova of Hillsville, Pa.

He enlisted in the army on February 2 and requested that he be sent to the Hawaiian Islands, but after soldiering a month at Fort Hays, Columbus, Ohio, he decided he had enough.

It happened that Private Genova is a minor, and his father, Filippo Genova of Hillsville, appealed to Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls, to get the boy discharged from the service.

Congressman Swick took the matter up with the War Department and has just been notified that Private Genova will be discharged.

Three Charges Made Against Man Caught At West Pittsburg

Steve Cegelka, who was placed in the county jail by Constable Walter Bannon for running his automobile through a garage at West Pittsburg, now faces charges of driving while intoxicated, driving without a license and the larceny of an automobile.

The information was made before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton. Cegelka was found lying in the garage, drunk, after he had driven the car of the owner of the garage through the end of the building and down over an embankment. Questioned after he had been placed in jail Cegelka denied that he had been the driver of the car.

Spinella Case Is Argued At Court

Appeal of Frank Spinella from the decision of Mayor Gillespie in which he was fined for the alleged violation of a gambling ordinance was argued before Judges Hildebrand and Chambers this morning. City Solicitor Robert M. White appeared for the city and Clyde Gibson for the appeal. The case was one in which Spinella was arrested for running a gambling house and disorderly conduct. About 24 others were arrested at the same time. The mayor imposed a fine for violation of the city ordinance relating to gambling, but dismissed the disorderly conduct charge.

Chief arguments centered around the question as to whether the action taken by Gibson was an appeal or a certiorari. It was finally agreed that it was a certiorari. The court will hand down an opinion later.

Bakers have imaginations. One has only to witness the many tempting things which they confect to bear this out. Huge cakes can be seen in shop windows, using every possible color and every possible shape. But even the bread makers have started on a mad March rampage. Yesterday we noticed in one shop window a tray of rolls each one of which was shaped like a giant bunch of grapes. And the whole was carefully sprinkled with poppy seeds.

"De brewers big black horses won't run over me" hummed the sage of the South Side yesterday afternoon as what looked like an old time brewery wagon rolled past his front door stoop. The wagon was painted a lurid red, trimmed in yellow. But what was most interesting was the fact that on the side there was displayed the name of a prominent wholesale grocery firm. Going to show that the age of the horse is not quite over. They have not been relegated—quite.

Now that the Community Christmas tree which graced the public square at Yuletide has been taken down it only remains for some kind soul to remove the wreaths from the soldiers monument. For now they are even more bedraggled than ever. Ribbons that were once red now are a dirty black and leaves once a glossy green are now incrusted with grime. But, perhaps it would be better to leave them up until Memorial day—perhaps.

chief counsel: "If the case had gone to trial, many relatively innocent people would have been involved as almost to wreck their lives." And further: "This will terminate all court action, charges and counter charges and all sensational and sordid revelations."

And what were these revelations? It was hinted that the prosecution would have tried to prove that Velma West had a strange complex—she liked a person of her own sex so strongly that because of this girl she killed her husband. Miss Young's statement is said to tell of this friendship.

Dressed Mannishly.

Velma, mannish in her ways ,even to attire around the nursery at Perry was angered when her husband refused to give her the keys to their auto so that she could go to Miss Young's card party and hit him repeatedly with a hammer, the prosecution was ready to assert. The hammer and some twine were at hand for repairing a window curtain.

The window curtain never was repaired. The twine was used to bind the unconscious husband.

WOMEN OF FEDERATED CLUBS HEAR OF WORK AT ANNUAL MEETING

ment, with Mrs. William E. Gordon as chairman, who explained the reason for its organization, and the work which it hopes to accomplish.

Mrs. Clarence Davis, as supervisor of the juniors, outlined the work done by the Rose Bud chapter since its organization about one year ago, now has a membership of 40, and is steadily growing.

The Art club is working to make it possible to have a fine display of pictures in the new George Washington Junior High school, and the plan for this display was explained by Miss Edith Moore.

Cites Need of Home

Mrs. Fred Smith of the Civics department brought before the members the need of a detention home for girls, and the subject was further discussed by Mrs. Minnie McKibben, police woman, who made a stronger plea, and had facts in the situation.

Vocational work which is fast becoming an important factor in our schools, was discussed by Mrs. W. W. Sniff who is chairman of the vocational department.

Mrs. Carl Wilson, chairman of the educational department told of the very splendid educational survey which has been made by their group, and introduced Mrs. Fred Chalfont, of the Better Magazine council of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Chalfont who is a fluent speaker made a plea to our women to aid in the abolition of demoralizing magazines which are sold at our newstands, and explained the far reaching effect they tend to have upon our young people.

State President Speaks

The local club women were fortunate to have as one of their speakers, Mrs. John Frick of Allentown, state president of the Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Frick has a keen insight into human nature, and talks in an easy but persuasive manner. Among the many good points of her talk were the five phases of the work which she hopes to be outstanding for the year. First: that there be 100% of the club women register, and vote at the primary and general election. Second: club extension, or that every club bring in another club, in order that women in both city and county have the benefit of club life. Third: books within the reach of everyone, and stressed especially, the county and traveling libraries, which are proving most successful. Fourth: scholarships, either a loan scholarship fund, a gift scholarship fund or both if possible. Fifth: to help keep the country beautiful, and not spoil it with picnic debris, or ungainly advertisements.

Mrs. Frick stated that the state convention takes place this year, October 8 to 12 inclusive at Lancaster, Pa. The biennial to which every Federation with a membership of over 100 is entitled to a delegate, will take place in San Antonio, Texas, May 28 to June 7.

A resolution that books be privileged the same mailing rates as magazines, which was passed at the 18th biennial meeting was introduced by Mrs. Frick, and endorsed by the local organization.

Announcement was made of the meeting of the southwestern district March 22, at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dinner Event

The afternoon session was adjourned, and during the intervening time before the dinner hour, a lovely display of handmade articles by Byron Gudgel of Berlin Center, Pa., were viewed.

At 6 o'clock an elaborate menu was served to 121 guests, in the dining room by members of the King's Daughters of the church. Sweet peas, and tulips were used effectively in the table decorations. Prayer was offered by Mrs. T. W. Phillips.

During the dinner a group of the Quota Club members responded with a song, and the Business and Professional Women's club representatives and the Beaver County ladies were introduced.

Mrs. Greer introduced Hughes Bartlett of this city who spoke on "Art in Advertising" in a most comprehensive manner. Mr. Bartlett showed in his short talk how art may be applied and is being applied in order that even though it be an advertisement it may be pleasing to the eye, and be an asset rather than a liability to the community.

Mrs. T. W. Phillips who was one of the charter members of the organization spoke a few words on the advancement of the work since its beginning.

Dr. Green Speaks

"Art in the Schools" was the subject discussed by Dr. C. C. Green, City Superintendent of Schools, and he is heartily in favor of the extension of art courses. Until recent years art was looked upon as a fad by many persons who had no talent along that line. Today we have come to realize that art is not merely the drawing of pictures, although there are 33 art teachers in our schools, but that artistic effects underlie every subject found in the school curriculum. Dr. Green explained the plans being made for the exhibition of pictures at both the Senior High school, and the new George Washington Junior High school.

Mrs. Frederick Chalfant of Pittsburgh, gave briefly the object of the better magazine council, and of their accomplishments in her city.

The state president Mrs. John Frick was again received in a most enthusiatic manner, and represented our ambitions as wings, which may be the means of lifting our work from the commonplace to ideal heights. Mrs. Frick, quoting from Emerson stated "Thou that is being accomplished by the club women today will make the world better not only for their children, but for their children's children.

Evening Session

At the conclusion of the dinner program, the evening session followed in the Sunday school room, with a number of guests present. A group of girls from the Junior Federation including Janet Weddell, Rebecca Horner, Betty Shira, Maxine Harlan and Dorothy DeVassie, acted as ushers.

Richard E. Johns led in the singing of Hail Pennsylvania! accompanied by Mrs. Robert Fleming.

Mrs. William E. Gordon in her usual delightful manner gave a group of readings by Paul Dunbar, including "Encouragement," "In The Morning" and a selected number.

As chairman of the Junior drama group Miss Evelyn Pearson assisted by Miss Ruth Lewis, Hamilton Noss, and Franklin Blanning presented a delightful one act play "Lonesome Like," in a most professional manner.

The Senior dramatic group under the direction of Mrs. William Gordon presented a clever sketch entitled "A Summer Day." The cast included Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Miss Edith Moore, Mrs. R. J. Robison and Mrs. William Gordon.

Beautiful solo numbers were rendered by Miss Margaret Jeffries, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Fleming, and Mrs. I. C. Brown rendered "The Second Minuet" in costume.

Two vocal numbers by Richard E. Johns concluded a most delightful program, and a meeting which will be beneficial to all club women who attended.

Location Not Yet Secured For New First U. P. Church

Nothing has yet been done in the matter of selecting and securing a proper site for the erection of a new church building by the First United Presbyterian congregation.

The matter of choosing a location for a church edifice is one of great importance and the trustees of the congregation are devoting their best efforts to this particular task.

At the annual congregational meeting the trustees were authorized to secure a site north of Euclid avenue.

The property on which the former church stood, which was totally destroyed by fire on the evening of December 31, 1927, has not yet been disposed of.

Rabbi Menkes Is Kiwanis Speaker

Temple Israel Rabbi Speaks At Noon Gathering In Elk's Home

Society can only be improved by an approach through the individual rather than through an aggregation of individuals, mass legislation against popular morals is futile, and nothing toward the coming of the Golden Age can be done until sociologists begin to treat a man as a man and not as a cog in a machine, were the ideas set forth by Rabbi J. B. Menkes, when he addressed the local Kiwanis club on "Ideals Made Popular," at the weekly meeting of the club which took place at noon today in the dining room of the Elks club.

"Ideals must go out and ascend, but they must also glide down if they are to become of any value," asserted Rabbi Menkes. "It must not be forgotten that men are of the earth earthy, are groundhogs the product of thousands of years. They must be strong enough to lift themselves above the earth."

The time has passed, Rabbi Menkes continued, when Ideals are the property of a few poets, artists and philosophers. Wholesale reform, he says, will take too long, and if we are to reach the Golden Age, it will be through the individual and not through the masses. And, he concluded, each man must feel that the burden of society rests on him, for progress must go from the individual to the mass.

At the end of his address, the club gave Rabbi Menkes a rising vote of thanks.

Officers Reserve To Have Ladies Night

Event Will Be Held In The Elk's Club, This City, On Evening Of March 14

Wednesday evening March 14 will be a notable occasion in the history of Shenango Valley Chapter, Reserve Officers association of the United States on account of the fact that it is to be observed as "Ladies Night" and the members of the chapter with their wives or sweethearts will be in attendance.

It is anticipated that there will be a record attendance of the members of the chapter and their wives or lady friends. A chicken dinner will be served at 6:45 p. m. after which the evening will be spent in a social manner with cards and other forms of entertainment.

Indications are that there will be those present on that night from all parts of Beaver, Butler, Lawrence and Mercer counties.

George Bernard Shaw says, "All boys should be taught to mend their clothes and cook." Yes, and some of them might also be taught to mend their ways.

Deaths Of The Day

Mrs. Rachel L. Everhart.

Mrs. Rachel Long Everhart, aged 68 years, died at the home of her son, Dr. Watson Everhart of Erie, Pa., word to friends here states.

Mrs. Everhart was born and raised in Shenango township, Lawrence county. She is survived by three brothers, Thomas A. Long of Shenango township, James W. Long of California and Joseph Watt Long of Colorado.

Funeral services will take place Friday, March 9, at 1:30 at the home of S. W. Claypool on First street, Sharon. Burial will be made in Sharon.

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Jones.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis Jones, aged 89 years, widow of Philip V. Jones, one of the best known and highly esteemed residents of this city and the oldest Welsh woman in Lawrence county, passed away Tuesday evening, March 6, at 8 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David S. Williams, 402 East Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Jones has been in failing health for some time. Her condition became more critical a few days ago. Her death was due to complication developing from infirmities of age.

She was born in Blaina, Monmouthshire, Wales, May 16, 1938, a daughter of Daniel and Catherine Lewis. In 1858 she was united in marriage to Philip V. Jones, at Llanelly, Breconshire, Wales, by the Rev. Arthur Griffiths, rector of the Episcopal church of that city. Mr. Jones died in November 1921.

She came to America with her husband and two children in 1863 locating at Brady's Bend, Pa. Three years later they came to New Castle.

Mrs. Jones was the oldest member of the First Baptist church of this city. As long as her health permitted she was a faithful attendant at all of the services. She was a wonderful mother and a noble Christian.

She leaves the following children: Lewis K., of California, Philip I., of Pittsburgh, William R., of Conneaut, O., Mrs. Cassie A. Jones, Mrs. D. S. Williams, Mrs. Harry H. Sherrard and Mrs. Sara Hickok, all of this city. She also leaves one sister in Wales.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Williams, 402 Lincoln avenue, Friday, March 9, at 3 p. m. with her pastor, Rev. George Landis officiating. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Kirchie Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Marguerite Kirchie of Bessemer will be conducted Thursday, March 8, at 3:30 p. m., in the Presbyterian church of Bessemer. The pastor, Rev. W. J. Engle will be in charge. Interment will be made in Bessemer cemetery.

Time Of Funeral.

Funeral services for the late John Patrick McLaughlin will be conducted Thursday, March 8, at 10 a. m. from St. Mary's church. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

The body will remain at the Burke Funeral Home, Croton avenue until time of funeral.

Mrs. Book Funeral

The body of the late Mrs. Mary E. Book, widow of Captain David Book, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Gibson of West Sunbury, Pa., on Tuesday, March 6, at the age of 86 years, will arrive in this city Thursday morning about ten o'clock and will be taken to the home of Mrs. R. M. Jameson, 439 Court street.

A short service will be held at Mrs. Jamison's home Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Book was a former well known resident of New Castle having been a teacher in the public schools of this city. While here she was a member of the First Presbyterian church uniting later with the Presbyterian church of West Sunbury.

She is survived by one son, Harry Book of Bowling Green, O., and two daughters, Mrs. Bell Hoover of North Washington, Pa., and Mrs. J. D. Gibson with whom she made her home.

Baxter Anderson.

Baxter Anderson, aged 76 years, formerly of Volant, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Johnston, 840 Almira avenue, Wednesday morning, March 7, at 5 o'clock following an illness of complications.

Mr. Anderson was born at Rich Hill October 30, 1851, a son of Thomas and Hannah Anderson. He had been a resident of New Castle for seven years and was a stone mason by occupation. He was a member of the Presbyterian church at Volant and the Protected Home Circle.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. E. G. Carr and Mrs. R. E. Johnston of this city and Mrs. D. W. Houk of Hollywood, Cal. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Maria Carr of Volant, 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death 12 years ago.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Mrs. Weller Buried.

Funeral services for Mrs. Robert Weller were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her home, 446 Croton avenue. Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of Central Presbyterian church of which Mrs. Weller was a faithful member was in charge. The pallbearers were relatives.

Burial was made in the Herman church cemetery.

Santercoli Funeral.

Funeral services for Frank Santercoli were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the St. Lawrence church at Hillsville. The funeral mase was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano. The pallbearers were friends. Interment was made in Hillsville cemetery.

William Kane Buried

Funeral services for William Kane of Etna street were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Nee, celebrant, Rev. Fr. Wisenberger, deacon, and Rev. Fr. Clifford, sub-deacon. The pallbearers were James Brice, Thomas Martin, Joseph Eagan, George Dwyer, James Tucker, and John Burns. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

WEDDING OCCURS AT EDENBURG SQUIRE'S

Mine Forced Into Receivership Says President Of Firm

Bertha Consumers Company President Hints Of Pittsburgh Coal Action

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—Production at the mines of the Bertha Consumers Company will continue, although it has "been forced into receivership by an unnamed company," John H. Jones, president of the Bertha Company and now a receiver for his firm, declared today.

Although Jones refused to name the company he accused of forcing his firm into bankruptcy, it was generally known that he referred to the Pittsburgh Coal Company. This became apparent when J. D. A. Morrow, president of the latter firm, issued a statement in defense of his dealings with the Bertha Company.

"A new star of the first magnitude was certainly revealed in the person of Richard Crooks, tenor. From the very first he showed the eminence of his gifts; a superb voice of great power, evenly beautiful. His singing the first time was so magnificent, with such vocal power, such apparent ease in its tremendous climax and convincing sincerity of delivery, that the audience was in a perfect FRENZY OF ENTHUSIASM."

VELMA WEST MURDER CASE SENTENCE

MRS. VELMA WEST, confessed slayer of her husband, at Perry, Ohio, yesterday entered court at Painesville, Ohio, and pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree murder, and was consequently sentenced to serve a life term in prison.

By this means a murder trial that gave all of the early indications of being dragged through the sensationalism of the Hall-Mills, Snyder- Gray and other notorious crime trials of the past few years, was averted, and none of the sordid evidence that the trial promised was presented to the public.

The plea of the widow was a result of a conference of the prosecution and the defense attorneys and the court.

And while the scandal that might have developed in the community and some of the facts that had not been presented with regard to the hammer murder, were thus suppressed, it will be a question in the minds of many as to whether or not this is justice.

Trial by jury is the prescribed procedure in such cases, and the arbitrary agreement by which the case is taken from the jury is subject to controversy.

It is the general opinion that within a few years this woman, who struck down her husband in cold blood, according to her own confession, will seek parole from the penal institution, and that the sentence of life imprisonment does not necessarily mean what it seems to say.

It appears to be the general idea that when a life sentence is imposed it embodies a chance for parole within a few years.

America's crime wave is never going to be broken up while there is an inclination to let the known guilty, off easily.

THE SEXES—AND CHIVALRY

WITNESS a little drama. There is a marked-down sale of men's clothes in a big store. Every suit is a bargain, and the store is filled with people who wish to buy—nearly all of them men.

A few men stand near the counters, making selections. Many more stand behind them, impatient but well-mannered, awaiting their turn. Any one of them had rather miss a bargain than make a scene.

A dozen or more large women are present, having in tow, husbands or sons. These dear creatures, impatient of delay, calmly plough through the crowds of waiting men, seize piles of garments and return in triumph to their male property. If they need a clerk to answer questions, they seize one by the arm as he scurries past.

In short, they get service and get it promptly while mere men cool their heels.

An unthinking observer would say: "These women are superior to men. They get what they want."

The truth is that it any man should begin to elbow his fellows aside in complete disregard of the rules of fairness and good sportsmanship somebody would disarrange his face. Men are courteous to one another because courtesy is the first part of discretion.

A woman can, in the language of our day, "get away with murder—solely because she is a woman—solely because men of our day, almost without exception, aspire to be gentlemen, and the bedrock of gentility is chivalry.

Chivalry is a ball and chain in competition. Where women are concerned, any man who is reasonably decent pulls his punches.

Eventually woman may boss the world by reason of sheer merit. But until chivalry is dead they won't get a chance to show what they can do in a fair fight.

EDISON AND SKYSCRAPERS

AMERICANS worship many gods, their devotion often amounting to idolatry approaching that of the heathen osculators of brazen toes. Two of the nation's most worshipped idols are Thomas A. Edison, in whom the masses see a fellow-craftsman par excellence, and the skyscraper, which is exalted by them as the noblest expression of human progress.

With what confusion and lamentation, then, must idolaters have discovered that their one idol looks askance at the other idol. That the inventor is not a skyscraper devotee he makes plain in these words:

"The skyscraper, originally built as a time-saver, eventually must be restricted to prevent it becoming a loser of time because of the great masses of people who will be leaving and entering the buildings at the same time."

Thus does Mr. Edison snatch away from the "boosters" and "go-getters" the standard by which they measure the onward march of civilization. And here, also, you have the whole story of progress upset. Nothing tickles a booster more than milling throngs and jammed thoroughfares and public conveyances. It is so pleasingly suggestive of a million population by 1938, or what date have you?

No doubt worshipful ones can never forgive Mr. Edison, but his prophecy may aid the plain and sane thinking majority to retain its accustomed serenity when boosters grow delirious over future skylines and even more fabulous populations.

Our national idea of a panacea is to pass another law.

The chap who takes hair tonic internally usually finds that his thoughts go wool-gathering.

It is the blowhard who usually gets the harpoon. The whale would be all right if it didn't come up to spout.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonght 5:59. Sun rises tomorrow 6:24.

Forgetfulness is the bane of most people's lives. And to forget is to get mixed up in telephone numbers.

That reminds us, that there was once upon a time, a well meaning man now a resident of another city, who head a sermon one Sunday night, which he was especially pleased with.

He wanted to commend the minister.

Going to his home that night, he went to the telephone. Being a busy man, he had many numbers in his memory. He called one. He thought it was the right one.

As soon as he heard a voice at the other end, he started to express his appreciation of what he had heard without finding out to whom he was speaking.

He hadn't proceeded very far, when a voice at the other end of the line, "Who do you want?" "Why Rev. So and So," was his astonished reply. "H——" came back over the line, "this is the brewery."

The moral is "Always be sure who you are talking to on the telephone, then go ahead."

Now we have a congressman's son arrested for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. And the congressman is a minister, too. What's the world coming to anyway. At that rate we'll be hearing that a still has been operating in the capitol dome.

Now we nave Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, complaining against the sterilization of confirmed criminals. He evidently does not believe in evolution or heredity in spite of the fact that it was he that defended that Tennessee teacher who taught evolution. Just another indication that many lawyers are for "hire" and that their clients are always innocent, unless convicted.

Funny isn't it, how gamblers are reported to be killing off each other in Brooklyn. They may not kill off each other in the same way, but those who gamble in stocks rather than around the little green covered table often take a gamble with life.

Here's one for thought. Ghosts have lost their time honored white appearance, if we believe the eminent head of the American Society for Psychic research. They are reddish gray in color and emanate from "honest" mediums. Don't know but this new reddish colored ghost would be more fearful to meet than its old time white brother. Its color is very suggestive.

Six hundred school children of Mill Valley, California, are enjoying a week's vacation and all because they persisted in scratching themselves. It is believed they are infected with itch and will have a week in which to scratch themselves to their hearts content. Don't believe we would care for a vacation of that kind.

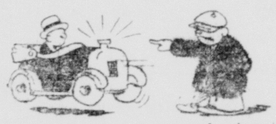

The new type of "peeper" has been discovered in San Francisco. He thought that a marine periscope was about the right thing to use. Screams resulted along with his capture. He would have been safer, if he had used his eyes without the assistance of the periscope. But then some men are never satisfied, no matter how much they see.

And now the newest type of a thief is one who takes advantage of a man's death. In New York, there is a man accused of forging a check in the name of a man who had been dead for a week. The fellow who did that was almost sure that "not sufficient funds" would be written on that check.

Then there is the two epitaphs a fifteen year old son of a New York dentist is said to have composed against the time of his father's death. And strange to say, the wife and mother approved them. Now the mother seeks to be divorced. Here is one of them "I was born, I worked, ate, slept, I was a miser, I lied, I died." It's not much wonder at that, that pop objected. That would be enough to cause any self respecting man to do things that would result in a divorce.

George Henry Keyes, a native of Ireland, 86 years of age, has just received his American Citizenship papers. He came to this country 79 years ago and served with the Union army during the Civil war. While it took him a little longer than usual to decide that he wanted to be an American Citizen, it's probable that he's been a real American in everything but name longer than most of us native born have been living.

Hawaiian girls are just as flapperish as the New York girl, declares Governor Wallace R. Farrington of Hawaii. The fact that they are many thousands of miles removed from New York, does not mean that they have not had plenty of opportunity to learn all the fine points of the flapper game.

Example of pedestrian having the last word: "Toot, darn you; I've got a right here."

It's well for a city to have a watchdog on the treasury but it does seem a little hard on the public servants, the city councilmen, to be called upon to pay for the entertainment of visiting officials from other cities. We don't blame the members of council for investigating in regard to the cost of entertaining the coming third class cities convention. It would take a considerable part of each councilman's pay to pay a pro-rata share of that expense.

It would appear that if this city is to make a fairly good impression on the cities of the state in its own class, that it should be prepared to entertain the delegates of the League of Third Class Cities in a truly fine fashion and it would appear that it should be done by and at the expense of the city as a whole, rather than by certain individuals, or organizations.

There is every indication that the teaching profession has been attracting an unusually large number of young men and women, especially the latter, in recent years and that soon there will be a surplus of teachers to meet every possible emergency. There's one good thing about it, those in charge should be able to pick worthwhile teachers.

Rotarians of the city are to have constructed at the Boy Scout camp, a fine new cabin for the use of these youngsters, who are being trained to be the leaders of tomorrow. No finer work could be undertaken by the Rotarians.

The chief advantage of a sermon by radio is that you can turn a little dial and avoid feeling self-conscious when the collection is announced.

When parents, in order to avoid possible arrest, take to sending their small minor children after their liquor, they are descending to a level, so low, that they should be severely punished.

Guns at best are intended only for emergency purposes, especially when in the home. It's about time that people remember this and refrain from having them where they may cause the serious injury of persons not accustomed to them.

There's the little four year old boy in Detroit, who until a few days ago, was the heir to millions of dollars. Now he stands in danger of being deported because of the fact that he was not born in this country. All laws are made to be obeyed but when it comes to taking advantage of a little child, there should be some good excuse for forgetting the law and continue to protect this little boy, who may prove to be one of our future great citizens.

Hoover taught a nation self-denial. Now let him teach the other candidates.

How do you know the good don't prosper more than the wicked? Have you ever seen any?

You'd see a quick recovery of memory if the wandering husband's deserted wife should inherit a million.

When a villager fails at everything else, people wonder what life insurance company he will represent.

We note with regret that the numerous stained glass windows of the First United Presbyterian church, which were not destroyed by fire, have been destroyed by boys, who apparently did not appear to realize the value of the windows they were destroying. Just another example of where a little home training might have prevented a most unpleasant situation.

The happiest times are those placid periods during which the world produces no great men.

As to the effectiveness of harsher laws, how many juries would convict if the penalty for speeding were life imprisonment.

When any group of people, in a church or organization of any kind are divided in opinion and cannot get together, it is better that right triumph, rather than a compromise be made. The compromise does not remove the cause of friction, which eventually grows serious. It is better to lose in the first instance, than to lose in the end.

The list of hardships Yankees can endure better than Southerners doesn't include calomel.

The two things that will make radio reception rotten in the near future are Summer and politics.

AMERICANISM: Calmly breaking laws you think foolish; scorning people who break other laws they don't like.

Great man: One whom Nature blessed with some kind of handicap to arouse his fighting spirit.

A blow on the head cured a man made imbecile by an earlier blow. Fine! Let's try that on the insane criminals. Pass the ax.

Some candidates remind us that Joseph wasn't the only favorite son to wear a coat of many colors.

If you know it but can't put it into words, and he says it as you'd like to, he is a great author.

It probably doesn't make much difference to the innocent bystander in China whether he is beheaded by a tyrant or a liberator.

Does a doctor take no medicine because he has good health, or have good health because he takes no medicine?

Practice birth control if you wish, but the big jobs are held by men who slept on the floor when cousins came to visit.

FAMOUS LAST REMARKS: "I don't think it's loaded, but I'll look down th' barrel an' make sure."

Big, Mixed Russia.

Big, Rich Chicago.

Busy Henry Ford.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

What suddenly became of gentlemen preparing a gala festival for Wall Street bears? Don't gamble, you would lose. But keep in mind that as James Speyer says, "prosperity must be the natural condition of the United States, unless we are very foolish."

Busy times in Wall Street Monday. 765,000 shares sold in the first hour, of which 310,000 were General Motors stock.

Another "3,000,000 share day" with money lending at 4 1-4 per cent. Don't sell this country short. That course is financially poisonous.

Joseph Toplitzky of Los Angeles, abnormally intelligent, says "don't forget that gigantic investment trusts are buying millions of shares, paying all cash and taking them out of the market. The little man is stabilizing prices. Some companies are buying enormous quantities of their own stock for employes."

The population of Soviet Russia has risen to 146,898,000, and there are 5,000,000 more women than men. That shows what war has done. The previous census showed only 500,000 more women than men.

Russia's much mixed millions are divided into 577 different tribes, speaking 150 different languages. What we call "Russians" are less than half the population.

The late Count Witte, when here arranging with Roosevelt to end the Japanese-Russian war, said to this writer, "You mustn't be surprised that Russia has not perfect government. The wonder is that we have any, with our mixed populations hating each other, and many languages. If this government falls it may be a long time before Russia gets another."

However, Russia has another, apparently a strong one.

Chicago was 91 years old last Sunday. Ninety-one years ago the new born city voted to spend $60 "to drain a pond in State street." This year Chicago appropriates $50,000,000 for parks, $15,000,000 for a new municipal hall and puts out a bond issue of $59,000,000.

Five hundred dollars invested on the Chicago lake front 91 years ago would be worth easily $50,000,000 today. This country grows rapidly. Get a good piece of real estate, take care of it, and it will take care of you. But be sure it is the right piece, look out for sharks, and don't buy unless you know what you are buying, and why you are buying.

Henry Ford says two things that interest you. He will continue to work at his flivver plane until he is able to produce a small strong machine for the price of one of his new automobiles. And he is at work perfecting a Diesel engine to carry a huge passenger plane across the Atlantic. That new engine, new fuel idea, is important.

Ford hopes to make ethe flight himself, "but not this year." Ford, who says "I'm a Republican because I was born one," repeats that he is for Hoover for president.

One-third the Radcliffe college students, half the Harvard students, replying to questions about companionate marriage, approve that invention. Two Harvard men and one Radcliffe girl are married already in that fashion. Twenty-two Radcliffe girls are willing to marry on the companionate plan.

This proves some girls at Radcliffe and some men at Harvard know little about life. When they know more, their views will change.

If the 22 Radcliffe girls enter companionate marriages, they will know, when their faces begin to have lines, their hips get wider, and their eyes dim, that they made a mistake.

A society in Japan urges girls, for economy's sake, to be married in kimonos of cotton instead of silk.

That Japanese society should establish a branch there. Our cotton growers here need it. Women that once wore yards of cotton, in made petticoats, now wear about half a yard of imitation silk underwear.

A young lady, 23 years old, pretty, wife of Lieutenant Fernic, Roumanian war ace, arrives by boat and means to fly back. "I don't believe the Atlantic is as big as it looks, and I am unafraid," says she. That's the spirit of progress. She should stay here and raise a family.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

HONEST MEN

There are some people who are just naturally honest. They live up to their contracts and do not seek to break them. They are not always considering the letter of the law, but have an inward letter that they obey.

It is refreshing to meet these people. They renew your faith in human nature.

Some one has said the honest man has the advantage over the dishonest one because the honest man knows there is one honest man in the world, while the dishonest man does not know there are any.

A lawyer named Gavin McNab died the other day in San Francisco. In his will we find two bequests, one to Mrs. Elkins of thirty-five thousand dollars and another of five thousand dollars to Joseph Finnell.

The money was bequeathed in each instance because the people had lost money on account of advice given them by Attorney McNab.

He was under no obligation to return this money, but he just felt better for doing it.

The explanation is simple.

The man was honest.

And he wasn't honest because he had to be, but just because he was.

The other instance is that of Reuben H. Donnelly, millionaire head of a publishing company.

Twenty-two years ago Mr. Donnelly's company passed through bankruptcy. He afterwards made good, is now sixty-three years old, and has some money.

He has voluntarily made good all the debts that were wiped out by bankruptcy.

Some of the creditors held claims for only small amounts, but they were in the humbler walks of life and in many cases a little money meant a good deal to them.

Now he is taking care of these little fellows.

There was one man who had a claim of eighteen dollars when the house went into bankruptcy. That was in 1905. He got his check for $38.75, which is plus interest for twenty-two years.

Mr. Donnelly said in his letter to the old creditors, "While the unpaid balance does not constitute a legal claim, I have always considered it a moral one."

It is a comfort to know that there are some people in the world who cannot rest easy until they have discharged all their obligations.

Bible Thought For Today

MAN'S THOUGHTS:—The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity. Psalm 94:11.

PRAYER: Judge us not, O Lord, according to our evil thoughts but according to Thy mercy, in Christ Jesus.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AH! IT DID NOT PAY.

It costs real money to print a newspaper. In order to be a successful publisher, the Paper owned must have subscribers and plenty of them, it must have advertisers and plenty of them and to obtain both in sufficient numbers, the publication must be edited and controlled by honest, alert and enterprising men.

No one charges Henry Ford with lacking any of the last named qualifications, yet, he failed to make the "Dearborn Independent" pay returns in dividends, after sinking more than two millions dollars into it. Publication ceased with the issue of the last day of last year.

The huge power presses, which once turned out more than 700,000 copies an issue and had a capacity of 1,000,000 are idle, and such part of the plant as can be utilized has become the printing department of the Ford Motor Company. The staff is disbanded; some members have been absorbed into other departments of the motor company, while others have left the Ford organization. Refunds are being made to the 225,000 subscribers on the books December 31, 1927. Total refunds will approach $100,000.

Mr. Ford acquired the publication in November, 1918, but the first issue did not appear until January 11, 1919. It was not until May 22, 1920, that the Jewish articles began to appear, and the series ran regularly until January 14, 1922. Occasional articles on the Jewish question appeared after that date.

Aside from its general editorial quality, credit for the phenomenal growth of the Independent was due in considerable part to the Ford dealer organization through which the paper was sold. While at first a large number of "curiosity" subscriptions were received, the bulk of the circulation was obtained through the vigorous selling campaign in which agents of the Ford Motor Co. and Ford employees played an important role. Commissions ranging from one-third to one-half of the $1.50 annual subscription price, depending on volume, were paid.

Starting with a few hundred subscribers, circulation under Ford ownership increased to about 701,000 at its peak in 1925. Thereafter it declined, and averaged about 500,000 during 1927.

The magazine was unique in that during its first six years under Ford it refused to accept advertising, and thertafter it was not able to obtain advertising in paying quantities.

It is said Mr. Ford held to the belief that publications have failed to print unbiased facts and that they have been influenced largely by partisan politics or by their advertisers. It was Ford's idea, some say, that a magazine uninfluenced by either of these factors could bring to light a vast amount of knowledge and become a potent inducer of independent thinking. Hence the Independent's slogan "Chronicler of Neglected Thoughts."

"Advertising pays."—Both advertiser and publisher. The publisher, however, does not have to sell his honor in exchange for so many lines of advertising. There Henry was wrong.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

IT TAKES PATIENCE

Time was she thought I could do no wrong,
Time was that she smiled on me.
She even fancied my burst of song,
Which never was on the key;
But love is both blind and deaf, you know,
And she tired of my singing long ago.

Time was she'd laugh at the jests I told,
And laugh at my repartee,
But she tells me now that my tales are old
And she wishes I'd silent be;
For what falls sweetly on love's young ears
Is apt to sound flat after twenty years.

The lover is lost, but the husband stays,
And the woman must patient be
Who can stand for all of man's foolish ways,
As my Nellie has stood for me;
But if she didn't love me, then this I know,
She'd have said goodbye to me long ago.

STARS AND MOON

Miss Margaret Mowbray, Geneseo, Illinois, writes:

"Your frivolous remarks with reference to Miss Flo Sampson's belief in the influence of the moon and the planets upon vegetation and humanity arouse a desire within me to offer a few suggestions."

Miss Mowbray then points out that the moon influences ocean tides. I believe I mentioned this fact in my first remarks about the moon. It is my belief, however, that the fact that the moon influences the tides is no proper evidence that the moon and planets influence the growth of potatoes or the character of John Smith and Tom Jones.

"I would like to suggest," says Miss Mowbray, "that you get down to finding out facts, and I think the most effective way of proving to yourself if there is any truth in it is to learn to make out your own horoscope, and trace the influence of the sun and moon and the planets upon your daily life."

I am sorry to report that I haven't time to learn to cast my own horoscope. But a distinguished astrologer once visited my office, when I was editing a newspaper. She was lecturing in our town, and she had heard that I didn't understand about what the moon and stars do to folk. She offered to tell my past and future.

"The past will do," said I. And she began.

When this lady had the desired data she worked it all out on paper. Then she read my past, while I took notes. She told in what years my joys, sorrows, triumphs, bereavements, advancements and journeys had happened. And I reviewed my notes carefully.

"I'm sorry," I reported, "but you have guessed wrong in every single instance. It seems incredible, with 18 or 20 separate statements and guesses, that none should be even approximately correct. But so it is. In every year that you have given a sorrow I had my chief joys. In the year that you have picked for my greatest joy, I lost my mother, my greatest sorrow up to this time. And so on through."

Perhaps this lady was not a competent astrologer. But she stood high in her profession. And she might do better with some other person's horoscope. But I have not been convinced that the phase of the moon matters much in the life of a potato—or of a man.

Mother Of Two Drowned Boys London Worker

Wife Of George Chisholm, Held For Drowning Of Two Sons, Worked In London

HEARTBROKEN OVER SUDDEN TRAGEDY

Griefstricken Mother Reveals That Husband Wanted Her To Return

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 7.—George Chisholm, former Canadian soldier, who is waiting trial in Indiana Harbor, Ind., for the drowning of his two young sons, Edgar and George, will receive no assistance from his wife. Grief stricken over the tragedy, Mrs. Chisholm is working as a ward maid for $5 a week in a hospital near London and waging a pitiful battle against poverty.

"A fortnight ago I received a letter from George asking me to return to him in Canada, but I refused to do it," Mrs. Chisholm revealed to International News Service today. "I told him I would like to see the boys, but that I could never return to him after the way he had deceived me. My grief over the tragic death of my boys is very great."

Mrs. Chisholm said she became acquainted with her husband at Great Yarmouth in 1917, while he was recovering from illness contracted in the service of the Canadian army. They were married the same year. In 1918 Mrs. Chisholm went to Montreal, her husband rejoining her there the following year.

"We lived happily at Montreal for two years and a half, then my husband met a married woman with three children who was living apart from her husband," continued Mrs. Chisholm. "George began drinking heavily. He ill treated me but for the sake of the children I put up with it. He sent me to visit my parents in 1924 and the other woman went into my home to live with my husband. On my return my husband told me he preferred the other woman and that I could go. Later George's brother told me that my husband had a wife living when he married me.

I asked George and he admitted it but said his other wife had died in 1919."

Mrs. Chisholm said about a month ago she received a letter from her husband in which he asked that she have her parents cable that she was dead so he could get the two boys in a charitable institution.

Mrs. Chisholm is a small, quiet brunette and bears the marks of suffering and hard work.

Minister Fixing Automobile Found Victim Of Fumes

(International News Service)

INDIANA, Pa., March 7.—Found dead in his garage here today, Rev. David L. Headlee, prominent Methodist Episcopal minister, was pronounced a victim of carbon monoxide fumes after an examination by Coroner Fred St. Clair.

The cleric had been repairing his automobile. The engine, running when his body was discovered, generated the gas fumes, the coroner said.

REPORT NUMBER OF AUTO MISHAPS

Collision Occurs At Corner Of Highland And Leasure Avenues This Morning

A number of automobile accidents were reported to police this morning and last night. A number of them were due to the fall of snow this morning. There was considerable damage in several instances.

Attorney John P. Lockhart of Garfield avenue, was enroute south on Highland avenue at Leasure avenue intersection this morning, when L. A. Campbell, 106 South Crawford avenue enroute north on Highland avenue made a left hand turn to go west on Leasure avenue and the Lockhart machine ran into the Campbell machine. The latter car landed on a fire hydrant at the southwest corner of Highland avenue. It was badly damaged. The Lockhart machine was damaged to some extent.

P. J. Dickson, 904 North Liberty street reported today that he was enroute west on Home street last night at the corner of Moravia street and he made the regulation stop on account of traffic when the car of W. J. Lennig of 1110 East Washington street enroute north on Moravia crashed into the car which he was driving and which belongs to G. J. Forest of Florence avenue. Both machines were damaged.

Mrs. B. G. Freeburn of 215 Atlantic avenue reported Tuesday that she was in the act of parking on Washington street in front of Coen's fruit stand when her machine struck another machine parked in the same district. No damage to amount to anything was done.

Jesse Porter of Beaver Falls Pa. R. D. 3, reported Tuesday that he was enroute on North Mercer street at Sycamore Way when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 711-225 going west on Sycamore Way collided with his machine. Some damage was done.

Doris McDonald Committee Denies Few Allegations

(International News Service)

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., March 7.—The Doris McDonald defense committee today issued a statement saying that the only "confession" made by the former local girl, awaiting hanging in Montreal on March 23 for the fatal shooting of a taxi driver, is in the hands of the Canadian minister of justice.

"The statement published as Doris' confession to Detective Baker in Denver is absolutely false," said Wolfango Cribari, head of the committee, in a statement. "It has no foundation in fact.

"Doris was not a cabaret dancer, she was not an actress, she was not a denizen of the underworld. Evil company, a romantic nature, an unhealthful environment and lack of strength to resist temptation are responsible for her present position."

The statement made denial that Doris was "a perpetrator of the crime or an accomplice on the scene."

Trade Commission Will Open Probe In Power Industry

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 7—The federal trade commission's investigation of the electric light and power industry of the nation, ordered by the senate, will get under way here tomorrow.

The commission announced today it will hold a preliminary hearing tomorrow at which officials of the National Electric Light association and the American Gas association will appear and identify certain documents which will be introduced to outline the scope of the investigation.

The inquiry will be held under the authority of the Walsh resolution, which originally provided for an investigation by a senate committee, but which was amended after spirited fight on the floor, to substitute the trade commission as the inquisitorial body.

Mayor Walker Keeps Cabinet Committee Waiting Half-Hour

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Mayor "Jimmie" Walker believes in being himself whether he's in his natural element in New York or elsewhere.

Anyway, the dapper and always well-groomed mayor didn't let the austerity and dignity of official Washington change his habits one bit today.

Mayor Walker came to the capitol to talk with the government concerning old and new federal building sites. He had an appointment with a cabinett committee, Secretary Mellon, Postmaster General New, and Attorney General Sargent, at 10:15 a. m.

When the hands of the clock pointed to almost 11 and the cabinet officers were casting pointed glances at the timepiece, Mr. Mellon, who besides being secretary of the treasury is one of the world's richest men, instructed one of his aides to call up the mayor and see if he was going to keep the engagement.

"I'll be right over," responded the mayor with alacrity.

And when he arrived at the huge treasury building he almost stopped the machinery.

Hundreds of girl clerks and stenographers, who have long heard of "Jimmie's sartorial perfection, deserted their ledgers and their typewriters and flocked into the corridors.

The mayor walked down the long corridors of the treasury to Mr. Mellon's office between solid lines of feminity.

"This looks like New York," said the mayor, surveying the lines.

The girls gave the mayor a great reception. They jostled and shoved for vantage points just as they do whenever Col Lindbergh makes an advertised appearance in the capital.

Lowden Is Boosted By Iowan Speaker

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 7.—Charging President Coolidge with betrayal of the party pledges on which he was elected, uttering an emphatic warning of the overthrow of "unequal tariffs," and denouncing "a prosperity propaganda which insults the intelligence", M. J. Tobin, keynote speaker, opened the Iowa State Republican convention here today with a plea for support of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois for president.

Likely To Amend Proposal Offered On Muscle Shoals

Believe Senate Will Enact Slightly Amended Norris Plan For Power Project

SLIGHT OPPOSITION IS ENCOUNTERED

Would Dispose Of Muscle Shoals And Use Proceeds For Experiments

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Debate over disposition of the government's $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals project enters its closing stages in the senate today with all indications pointing to enactment of a slightly amended Norris plan.

The fundamental purpose of the plan, proposed by Senator Norris (R.) of Nebraska, to dispose of Muscle Shoals as a power project and use all proceeds for experiments in cheap fertilizers, gained support in administration circles following its endorsement by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine. The latter declared the Norris plan would enable his department to render "agriculture the maximum benefit".

Norris proposed that the government operate the project, sell or lease the power generated to municipalities, counties or states, preferably, and lastly to private corporations. All proceeds would be used to establish fertilizer-manufacturing stations around the country for experiments in the cyanamid and synthetic processes. It would authorize the secretary of agriculture to determine whether nitrates can be manufactured by use of coal at a price cheap enough to relieve farmers of their excessive fertilizer burdens.

Only one section of the Norris plan met with any organized opposition. This was his plan for government operation of the project without any provision for a lease of the whole property to private concerns.

Special Music At Lenten Service In Trinity Church

The service tonight at 8 o'clock in Trinity church, corner of North Mill and East Falls streets, will be the Penitential Office with sermon, hymns, offering, closing prayers and Benediction. A short service, but appropriate to the Lenten season, one of prayer and fasting, of penitence and devotion that souls may be brought nearer to Christ and may be more thoughtful of others and kind toward them.

The special preacher is the Rev. Dr. Edward J. Owen, of Sharon. The regular choir under the leadership of Prof. Paul B. Patterson will sing.

Another large group of children and young people attended their special service yesterday afternoon. The rector made the second of his addresses on the Parables of Christ, having the wrapt attention of all through the use of apt illustrations and practical teaching.

WILL AID SCOUT TROOP TO RAISE FUND FOR CAMP

For the purpose of raising funds for troop 5 of the Boy Scouts, which troop is sponsored by the B. P. O. E., 69, a show will be staged in the Elks Home on March 22, in which Soldo, New Castle's man of mystery, and Lee Calahan, Scout commissioner, will take part.

The funds which will be derived from the show will pay the expenses of the boys at camp in the summer.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

GIVING AWAY MONEY

A growing number of business men in this country have been wisely expanding their plants and stores. They have raised wages and some have put in profit-sharing systems so that their employes might do better. This shows vision and such men deserve credit. But these practices do not insure a man against the duty of giving away a part of his income.

Some men excuse their small gifts to the Community Chest or to this or that worthy cause on the ground that they employ many men and pay good wages. The fact is they employ many men in the hope of increasing production and profit. And it is merely good business sense to pay decent wages. A fully civilized and thoughtful human being will set aside money which he does not actually need and will use it in ways that will improve the condition of the greater number.

ROCKEFELLER

Years ago the elder Rockefeller, ahead of his time in many ways, saw the advantage of combination and giant corporate interests. He went through a period of prosecution and persecution and became pretty thoroughly hated. Now we have learned that large corporations and great combinations of business make lower prices, more productivity, and a more widely distributed prosperity. John D. Rockefeller has become popular and is looked up to as a wise man.

Unfortunately for this country there are too few men who, like Rockefeller, have turned their immense gains into funds for the common good.

In his business building and his giving. Rockefeller presents one of the world's foremost examples of a man with imagination and brains that function.

FARMERS AGAIN

Here's a bit of good news. Swift, head of Swift & Co., Chicago meat packers, says that prices which farmers get for farm products bear a more reasonable relation to the prices farmers have to pay for their supplies than at any time since 1920. Let's hope this pleasant trend continues. Not only will the farmer be happier. We will all be happier. If the farmer doesn't do well we can be sure that the rest of us will feel it soon.

GETTING SOMEWHERE

Now we're starting something that means something. The New York legislature will grant a charter to a "Religious Education Foundation." Men worth millions are ready to contribute to such a fund if it is wisely administered. The money will be spent to organize young people's activities in religious and moral culture, the training of leaders and teachers for church schools and for religious activities for youth in colleges. This is starting in the right place to make a better world.

Three billions of dollars have already been paid into funds of "foundations" like the Rockefeller Foundation. It is entirely likely the Religious Education Foundation will prove the most important of all.

Hear Of Death Of Mrs. William Owens

Martins Ferry Woman, Well Known Here, Passes Away; Welsh News

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS, (Brython)

The many friends of Mrs. William Owens of Martins Ferry, O., will regret to learn of her death last Saturday night. She was removed to the Martins Ferry hospital for an operation but her condition was such that it was found impossible to perform the same. Mrs. Owens was well known in this city, having visited here many times, always making her headquarters at the home of William A. Johns. A niece, Mrs. Thomas George also resides in this city. She and her husband had been living in Woodlawn recently. She was born in Llannelly, South Wales, April 28, 1865 and came to this country in 1895. She was a member of the Welsh Congregational church in Martins Ferry.

Mrs. Thomas Hopkins of Arlington avenue was called to Follansbee, last Sunday by the serious illness of Mrs. John Lake, a sister of Mr. Hopkins. Her husband died a few weeks ago. Mrs. Hopkins will remain there for some time.

William J. Powell, son of Benjamin Powell of Edison avenue, is getting along nicely at the New Castle hospital after the accident of March 5, in which he was injured. It is expected that he will recover in good shape.

The next meeting of the Star of Wales Lodge will be held Saturday evening, March 10. Every member is expected to be present. The officers of the lodge are: Past president, Emrys Lewis; president, Charles Richards; vice president, Henry T. Jones; financial secretary, Thomas D. Thomas; treasurer, Daniel Williams; recording secretary, William A. Johns; conductor, Thomas Grey; steward, Joseph Pugh; inside guardian, Griffifth Phillips; trustees, Thomas Grey, Henry T. Jones, and Griffith Thomas; sick committee, John Harvard, Isaac Isaacs, and Charles Richards; outside guardian, Evan Hopkins.

"I WAS GIVEN UP TO DIE", SAYS THIS MINISTER

Suffered Rheumatism, Kidney And Nerve Disorders; Pays High Tribute To New Konjola Medicine

REV. W. F. BRAY

The most severe test of any medicine is what it will do in the case of an aged person. This was conclusively proved just recently in behalf of the new Konjola preparation, which the Konjola Man is introducing at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where the suffering and ailing men and women call daily to find out about this surprising medicine that has been accomplishing such unusual results in the larger cities and throughout the Ohio Valley in instances of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowel disorders and catarrhal and rheumatic troubles.

"Since the fall of 1917, when I had a nervous breakdown, I have doctored and taken medicines, but never have I found anything to equal this Konjola", said Rev. W. F. Bray, whose home is at 1108 Malvern Street, Middletown, Ohio, in a statement received by the Konjola Man.

"I suffered severe attacks of backaches and kidney troubles for years, and I had rheumatism, nearly all my life I have stood the misery of hemorrhoids and constipation", continued Rev. Bray. "The trades I followed thru life were more or less strenuous. I was a farmer, a millwright, a stone mason, county surveyor and for 21 years I have been a minister of the Gospel. My health began to go down after my spell in 1917, and I finally became so bad that I was actually given up to die, my heart acted just enough to sustain life. I was in a weakened condition and my kidneys and bladder refused to act at all: I used cathartics, regularly. My physical energy and strength left me, so that I became a "set-in", waiting for the end to come. For the past 7 years, at regular intervals, every season, I suffered with the troubles I described. Hundreds and hundreds of nights I never laid down, my pains were so agonizing that I couldn't sleep. Last winter I returned to Middletown from London, Kentucky, and there I found Konjola. The druggist told me that he had never heard of another medicine like it. Well, sir, every June 1 was accustomed to my usual severe suffering, but last June the agony didn't come over me. I've gained flesh and strength and so much more vigor, that I'm actually a new man. Of course, I have taken several bottles of your Konjola but I believe in giving credit where credit is due so I am more than glad to have you publish my testimony, and the photograph, if you like. Besides I will tell everyone personally about your Konjola, because it has been a sound blessing to me."

This surprising Konjola preparation, is a medicine of such unusual efficacy, that it is believed to be just what thousands of sufferers have long needed for years, to actually reach their cases, and for stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, as well as rheumatic and neuritis troubles, it is declared that no suffering person can afford not to try it.

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Velma West Poses For Movie-Men, Is Happy Over Life Sentence

Blonde, Flapper-Slayer In Joyful Mood As She Hears Judge Say Life Term

Predict That Inside Of Seven Years Hammer Murderess Will Be Free Woman

(International News Service)

PAINESVILLE, O., March 7.—Velma West, the blonde flapper hammer-slayer, posed for the movie camera men in her cell here Tuesday, an hour after she had been allowed to plead "guilty to second degree murder," and sentenced to life imprisonment.

She was in good spirits. She was glad she did not have to go to trial for the murder of her husband, T. Edward West. She smiled and chatted with the photographers.

Her chief counsel, Francis W. Poulson, was delighted at the outcome of the case. He said he was sure, had there been a trial, that he would save her from the electric chair. While she was posing he went into the sheriff's office and looked over some of the exhibits. There was the hammer she beat "Eddie" to death with; the table leg she is alleged to have used, too, and other incriminating evidence.

Poulson, a smart Cleveland lawyer, chuckled every time a newspaperman approached him. It is no secret the attorneys believe they did smart work in Painesville.

Whole Town Upset

Everywhere the townspeople were asking:

"Why didn't they try her for the murder and let the jury decide?"

The prosecutor, Seth Paulin, declined to go into the matter. Neither would Special Prosecutor Homer Harper, a tall, rural looking lawyer who has been practicing law in the county for years.

"There's been enough scandal," was the attitude of some of the authorities. "We won't make a Somerville, N. J., or a Long Island City out of Painesville. We don't fancy these murder trial scandals."

The sheriff, Edward Rasmussen, who dug up most of the evidence and who exacted the confession of the murder from Velma, was disgusted at the failure of the local authorities to go through with the trial.

"We have enough evidence to burn her," he declared.

"She sure did get off light enough."

Velma wanted to know if she could go to the murder bungalow at Perry to obtain some of her personal belongings before she is taken to the reformatory at Marysville to serve her sentence. The sheriff held that matter in abeyance.

Opinion Differs

Opinion hereabouts was that Velma never will serve the rest of her life in the reformatory. It was pointed out by attorneys that the average "lifer" in Ohio serves from seven to 10 years. It is regarded as certain that Velma's attorneys, after a time has elapsed, will make application for her parole.

The chief wisecrack about town today, while the horde of newspapermen and photographers were preparing their exodus, was this:

"Gentlemen prefer blondes."

The blonde Velma put on a little more powder, some rouge and touched up her cupid's bow lips with lipstick before she posed for the movies. Upon advice of counsel she did not look any too flapperish when she came into court this morning. Before the case came up her attorney sat near her when she posed for pictures and warned: "No, no" every time she started to smile, but today, after she was sentenced, she could smile all she wanted. She wasn't even in the cell when the pictures were taken.

Men Folks Will Be Adorned With Flaming Colors

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 7.—Wow! Get this!

A three-button suit of reddish-brown mixture in which tints of lavender and bronze are prominent, displayed with a yellow shirt with two-inch wide stripes of white, a black and white checked necktie and a cream colored hat.

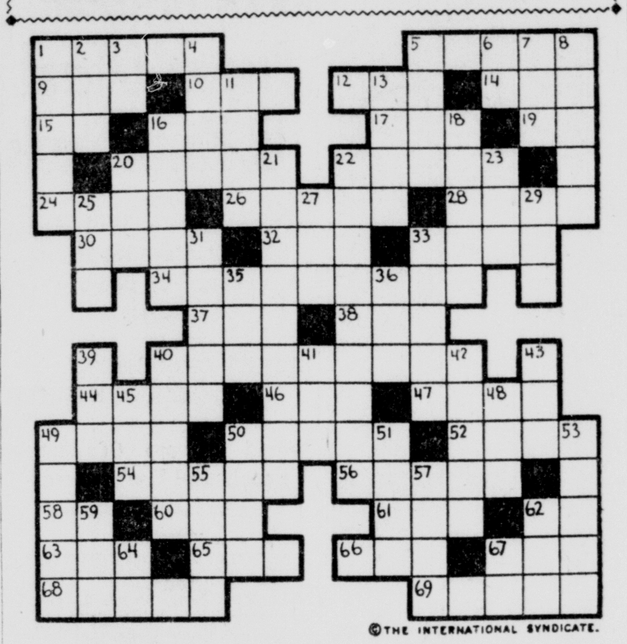

That's what men are supposed to wear this spring to be fashionable.

Shirts and socks are to be of yellow, green, pink and orange and are to have livid stripes.

This was the fashion outline presented to the common people here Tuesday by the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers at an annual convention.

"Men's suits will be very gaudy. It's the reigning vogue," explained the president.

"GET WELL AND STAY WELL!"

SAYS HEALTH EVANGELIST DYAR

"When I was in Beaver Falls hundreds of people came to see me, expecting some wonder of healing. These wonders were accomplished, but not by me. People who were all run down, people whose food failed to feed them properly, people in the grip of catarrh, weak men, women suffering all the time—all of these visited me," said Health Evangelist Dyar.

"I told them all the same story—that health depended first on getting rid of some distress, thus giving a chance to build up, and then that people could stay well, but until the cause of sickness was removed nobody could get well."

Good Health Followed

"On my suggestion, many of these people began taking World's Tonic. It cleaned their systems of impurities; it broke up catarrh, and it invigorated the whole body, making the weak strong. Literally hundreds found great benefit, and I have letters from many people in Beaver Falls telling me of the good health that followed this wonderful medicine.

"I wanted these people to stay well. No use getting back into the old state. For that reason I urge them never to be without World's Tonic. Take a few doses whenever things are not right, and thus stay well.

"To the many other suffering people in New Castle I want to leave this message: World's Tonic helped hundreds of your neighbors. Its body building properties will help you. Don't neglect your health! Get well and stay well!"

World's Tonic is sold by Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other good druggists. (218)

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A WOUNDED WARBLER.

Peter looked at the two Bluebirds as they sat upon the branch Mr. Bluebird pouring out his tale of woe in a musical solo and his gentle wife listening to him, her head pressed to his breast.

"They have so much to be thankful for" said the boy. "They are so beautiful and they love each other so much and their children are so well and strong.

"All of which is very true" agreed Snowbird. "But you see they really like to think about the sad things. I don't like to be unhappy, you know, but then that may be because I have never had much trouble in my life. I am getting hungry now though, so if you will excuse me I will run away and try to dig up a seed or two for luncheon. Goodby boy. You will see me again."

Peter had been long enough among the birds to realize that when they made up their minds to do a thing it was not long before they set about it. So he was not at all surprised when without more ado off flew pretty Junco.

It was quite evident that the Bluebirds had forgotten all about him. Now his song hushed the gallant husband was helping his adoring little wife home. Once more the boy was left alone.

Peter walked along slowly and he had not gone very far when he came to a wild rose bush that grew near the side of the brook. There he came to a sudden stop. At first he could not have told why. Nothing was in sight and yet he had a queer feeling that something was wrong. In the snow about the rose bush were drops of something that looked red—like blood. Peter bent down to examine them closely and then his ear caught a faint sound. He listened a second then straightened up and peered around.

"That sounded like a groan" said Peter aloud, "and unless I am very much mistaken, those are drops of blood. Some one has been hurt. There it is again! A cry for aid."

"Sir—wee! Sir—witz! Help! Help!" Faint as was the voice the words were quite clear. Who could it be and where was he?

As far as Peter could see nothing was in sight but the white snow the trees and a bush here and there. Then it seemed to the boy that the voice came from behind the rose bush. And he hurried around to the other side. What a sight met his eyes. There on the ground with his wings outstretched and with a great gaping wound in his side lay Song Sparrow. Peter knew him at once by his soft brown feathers and the large spot on his breast.

"Dear old friend, what has happened to you?" cried Peter running over and dropping on one knee beside the wounded bird. "Have you like Mrs. Bluebird been shot, too?"

"Not not shot, but stabbed," murmured Song Sparrow. "but nobody was to blame but myself. I went to the brook to get a drink and I found a little spot near the shore from which the sun had melted the ice. Then I knew that spring was on its way and I was so happy that I just had to fly up on the fence rail and sing my cheer song—you remember how it goes—'cheer, cheer, spring will soon be here. I was so excited that I didn't watch where I was flying and as I turned to go I ran into a sharp nail that was hidden by the snow and tore a great hole in my side."

PATRIOTISM LACKING?

New Castle, Pa.,
March 6, 1928.

Editor of New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I wish to call your attention to a very serious infraction of the rules of bigger and better patriotism on the part of citizens of this city.

During the movie at the Scottish Rite cathedral this week, the picture is shown of the American flag, commonly called the "Stars and Stripes", floating gently in the evening breeze at the top of a high white pole. The time is retreat; the place, one of our large military schools. To the strains of the Star Spangled Banner, played on the cathedral organ, this flag is slowly brought down to rest for the night.

The national anthem is not played in ragtime nor in counter point with "Over There".

Alas and alack, it is played as it was intended to be played.

And what happens? A thousand men, women and children sit in bovine simplicity and contentedly chew their cud.

Ten years ago a different tale could be told. I can remember our best people leaping to their feet and standing at attention when the pianist in any movie palace inadvertently played three notes of "Yankee Doodle".

Why this sudden change? I can see but two answers. Either the patriotic instinct only exhibits itself in times of national peril, or else prohibition is at last taking its deadly effect.

The tune to the Star Spangled Banner was at one time, you know, a very famous drinking song.

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES M. SMITH, JR.

The National Crime Commission finds that the police and the courts of the nation are "inefficient". But nobody is really efficient these days except those governmental employes who send out the income tax bills.—The Worcester Daily Telegram.

WELL KNOWN PRINTER IN SOUTH SCRANTON CALLED BY DEATH

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., March 7.—Stricken with a heart attack on his way to church early Tuesday, M. W. (Commodore) Walton, nationally known in union printing circles, died suddenly in the street not far from his home in South Scranton.

Familiarly known as "Commodore" Walton, for a quarter of a century, was a native of Hawley, Wayne county, Pa., and retired a few years ago after a half century as foreman of the Scranton Times composing room.

He was the father of five sons, all printers here. Walton was was apparently in the best of health when he started for mass.

Seventh Ward News

Rev. Greist Speaks In 7th Ward Church

Missionary Gives Interesting Talk; Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward

Rev. Henry W. Greist, M. D., from Point Barrow, Alaska, gave a most interesting address in the Mahoning Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, telling his story of Alaska with humor and appeal, holding the listeners' interest.

Rev. Greist has been in Alaska a number of years. He first served as pastor of the church at Cape Prince of Wales. The Eskimo church there, "The Thornton Memorial", is the most western church on continental North America. After serving for a year at Cape Prince of Wales Dr. Greist went to Barrow as the physician in charge of the new hospital and pastor of the three churches at Point Barrow, Barrow and Wainwright. This parish extended over one thousand miles of Arctic coast. Rev. Greist is a medical physician as well as minister. As a physician during his term of service at Barrow he was successful in raising the level of public health to a very high standard.

In his talk he gave a vivid description of the land, the size of Alaska, the weather, the sea line and the Eskimo people. Point Barrow is eight hundred miles from the North Pole. The average temperature is around 60 degrees below zero and so dark sometimes at noon time that lantern light is needed. The springtime in Alaska starts in March or April and continues into September, or about three and one-half months. During this time the sun never sets, whether midnight or noonday. About 50 degrees above z[illegible] is their average temperature for [illegible] Alaskan summer.

Rev. Greist spoke at length of the schools and churches of Alaska, telling also that during 1927 and 1928 the home board of missions of the Presbyterian church is celebrating the 50th anniversary of Protestant missions in Alaska.

Accept Plans For School To Be Built Near Princeton

An eight-room schoolhouse with combination gymnasium and auditorium, estimated to cost about $30,000, to be built in Slippery Rock township midway between Princeton and the improved concrete road from New Castle to Butler, was decided upon by the school board at a meeting Monday evening.

According to the plans as drawn by Albert Thayer, architect, the building will be a one-story building of brick construction with the combination gymnasium and auditorium in the center and arrangements for some six or eight classrooms surrounding the auditorium, with teachers' rest room and office.

A modern heating system is being planned, with steam heat and classroom units in each room. Arrangements are being made for toilets and a water system and sewage disposal plant.

Mr. Thayer says that the building is being planned to make it as economical as possible. The large activities room in the center is being planned for community activities. A stage is being arranged on one side and equipment being planned for a kitchen in one of the rooms to make provisions for community banquets. The stage is being planned so that it can be used as a classroom when not desired for a stage.

The plans are being made so that as the need arises future extensions may be made and classrooms added in units.

The site of the new building is on the east side of the road leading from the New Castle-Butler concrete road to Princeton and about midway between the road and the village of Princeton. An athletic field of six or eight acres has also been arranged for. The site of the building and athletic field being on an eminence, gives it a fine location from an artistic viewpoint. Also it will be located conveniently for children from either Princeton or the territory along the concrete road.

Bids for the new building will be received on March 28 by the school board. The architect has the plans almost entirely completed.

Present Play At Ben Franklin

"Xerxes" Given By Sixty Pupils On Tuesday Afternoon And Evening

Some sixty children of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school under the direction of Miss Esther Gibbons and Miss Twila Kitch gave a most pleasing presentation of the play, "Xerxes" Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Benjamin Franklin auditorium.

The play which pictured the story of Esther and her salvation of the Jewish race at the palace of Xerxes was most pleasantly given. A chorus of some 30 voices interspread the scenes with Jewish Psalms and melodies.

The part of Haman as played by Harold Jones seemed to be the outstanding feature of the play although all characters were well played. The impression was given that perhaps the play was better suited for more mature students than those of Junior High school.

Arrangement of the stage were in charge of Miss Hattie Welsh and Walter Summerland, while Miss Thelma Howel and Miss Arletta Drew had charge of the costuming.

Following is the play as given, with the members of the cast and chorus.

Prologue—"The Jews Lament".

Reader—"In ten short days shall none be left alive of all the accursed race."

Act I—The Queen's Garden.

Act II—The Inner Chamber of King Xerxes.

Reader—"Ay, well may the heart of Israel leap for joy! The doom of death hath surely passed them by!"

Act III—Queen Esther's Garden.

Characters

Queen Esther—Marian Rodebaugh.

Xerxes—Julian Turk.

Mordecai—Bell Marlin.

Arrest Youth For Auto Accident

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., March 7.—Henry Fultz, 18 years of age, was arrested last night at the No. 5 mine near here and charged with being the driver who struck and damaged the car of Archie Henderson of Farrell on the Greenville road last Saturday night. Henderson was badly injured and was taken to the Mercer hospital.

A member of the state police made the arrest and young Fultz was brought to Mercer and arraigned before Squire T. W. McClaine, where he pleaded guilty to the charge. He is being held for the April term of court and it is understood that bail is being arranged by relatives.

PROMISES LONG, HEALTHY LIFE TO WEAK, THIN-BLOODED PEOPLE

Scientists Discover "Mysterious Substance" in Beef Livers That Makes Rich Red Blood and Creates Strength, Vigor and Vitality—Often in 8 Days.

There's help for men and women, who are rundown, weak, tired-out and thin-blooded.

In New York and other big cities progressive physicians are prescribing a diet of beefs liver.

They have found by actual tests that patients far gone with pernicious anemia—so far gone that life itself was only a matter of months—have been restored to health.

In order to get this "Mysterious Substance" or Vitamines in a greatly condensed form one of New York's famous Laboratories is putting up a liquid elixir known to Pharmacists as Hemo-Liver.

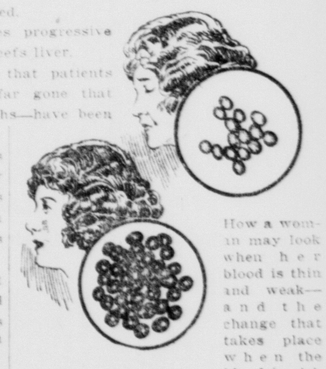

This preparation is not a patent medicine—the vitamines are extracted by a new process from fresh beefs liver so that the blood making health creating substance is saved.

It is not a patent medicine but a pleasant to take elixir which all thin-blooded people and especially those who need more vigor and vitality are urged to try.

Hemo-Liver is now dispensed by all druggists who keep abreast of the times with the distinct understanding that if one bottle does not help—wonderfully—your money will be returned.

"Men and women who are suffering from lowered vitality, general weakness, overwork, nervous breakdown or anemia can put their faith in Hemo-Liver. For feeble old people, girls 13 to 18 and in convalescence it won't fail. It strengthens the nerves, increases the red blood cells, promotes health and rebuilds energy so quickly that often physicians are astonished.

You can get Hemo-Liver at Love & Megown.

How a woman may look when her blood is thin and weak—and the change that takes place when the blood is rich and red.

Gives Her First Impressions On Coming To New Castle

(EDITOR'S NOTE—We have often wondered just what are impressions of strangers who come into New Castle to reside. At the meeting of The Reading Circle, this week, Mrs. S. B. Copeland, of East Washington street, while not exactly a recent newcomer in this city, yet one who came here as a stranger to the city, gave some of her impressions of New Castle. It is being presented herewith not at her request, but as a matter of general interest to the community.)

Fortunate is the newcomer who arrives in New Castle by way of some of our lovely new roads, thus escaping a horrible first impression gained when arriving by train. The last few miles of railroad track seem to lie through a most unattractive, though necessary, part of our town; and the railroad stations compare unfavorably with those found in many towns not half our size. In this latter case, a totally incorrect impression of our city is imprinted on the newcomer's mind.

Your spirits are not lifted if you are driven past our city and county buildings, for while both of them are eminently useful, their most ardent supporters could hardly term them ornamental.

Then you may suggest that since you have seen the main thoroughfare of the town, your host shall now show you the other thoroughfares. He admits sadly that our fine town of more than 50,000 inhabitants boasts only one good main street. He will tell you, however, that many people are interested in relieving the situation, and that perhaps our children will live to see another thoroughfare through our town.

If your abiding place happens to be on the main artery of New Castle, the honking of auto horns, and the traffic congestion will convince you that your friend was right; for all the autos and trucks in Ohio and Pennsylvania seem to pass your front door at least once a week. As you try in vain to enjoy your veranda, you are saddened by the thought that all those passing autos have to come honking past again on their homeward journey! However annoyed you may become, do not wander off the main street in search of quiet, for so few of the streets are marked, you may lose your way!

Worst Side Outside

New Castle is like a certain type of person,—her worst side is her outside; and also, like this same kind of person, her best side will be discovered upon acquaintance, and she will wear well. One does not need to go the proverbial half way to find friends in this town for the people one meets are naturally friendly, and have a way of making one feel at home immediately. You do not have to be in trouble to discover this; but when you are in trouble, you will find New Castle folks at their best. The girls in the stores seem to take pride in knowing the customers, and will use their best efforts to please you in a way seldom found in a large city.

This friendly spirit extends also to the churches. There is a splendid lack of jealousy, and a fine spirit of harmony and cooperation. There is little of that narrow sectarianism, and denominationalism which we see deplored in magazines and newspapers; but there is a general respect for all creeds. Perhaps this same spirit is partly responsible for the movement in politics which places men above party, and principles above partisanship. Too much credit cannot be given the women who have been leading men into this better understanding of good politics.

Before the first week of one's stay in New Castle is over, the press of our city has made its impression. It is unusually clean. It gives a minimum of space to the salacious and the indecent. Anyone not interested in church work would be annoyed by the amount of space given to church news; but newspapers do not print what is not read, so one is immediately impressed by the number of people who must be interested in the churches.

You will not appreciate all these fine things about our city unless you have lived in a town where you do not know, nor care to know, your next door neighbors; where no one has invited you to a church or to a club; where you can have sickness and death with the neighbors knowing nothing of it until the hearse drives up; where you know absolutely nothing about your candidates at election time, and vote the ticket as ignorantly as many a ward-bossed foreigner; where you try to keep the newspaper away from the children, because of the filth they contain. New Castle is like some very choice friend who is not over-particular about her manner of dress, her faults evident to the casual passer-by; but her virtues a constant delight to you who know that her mind and soul are not dressed as her body. So sometime when you are impatient of our few department stores, when you are ashamed of our public buildings and congested traffic, just begin to count your blessings, and be thankful you live in New Castle.

Careless Washing Spoils the Hair

If you want beautiful hair, ordinary old time methods of washing will not do. To bring out the real beauty, the hair must be shampooed properly.

Proper shampooing is what makes it soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Engineers Will Meet Saturday

E. J. Friedrich Of New Castle Is On Committee For Special Event

What is expected to be one of the year's outstanding meetings of the Sharon section, American Institute of Electrical Engineers will be held Saturday in Youngstown under the auspices of engineers of the Penn-Ohio Power and Light Company.

Sharon members of the organization will meet at the Westinghouse parking grounds at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and will be driven to Youngstown in special P. & O. buses. Upon arrival at the P. & O. headquarters, the visitors will be conducted on inspection trips until 6 o'clock.

C. S. McCalla, vice president and general manager of the P. & O. System, will be the principal speaker at the meeting to be held in the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "The Place of the Utility in Our Economic Structure." Other talks illustrated by slides describing the P. & O. System will be given by engineers of the company. Following the speeches a motion picture film entitled "The Romance of Power" will be shown.

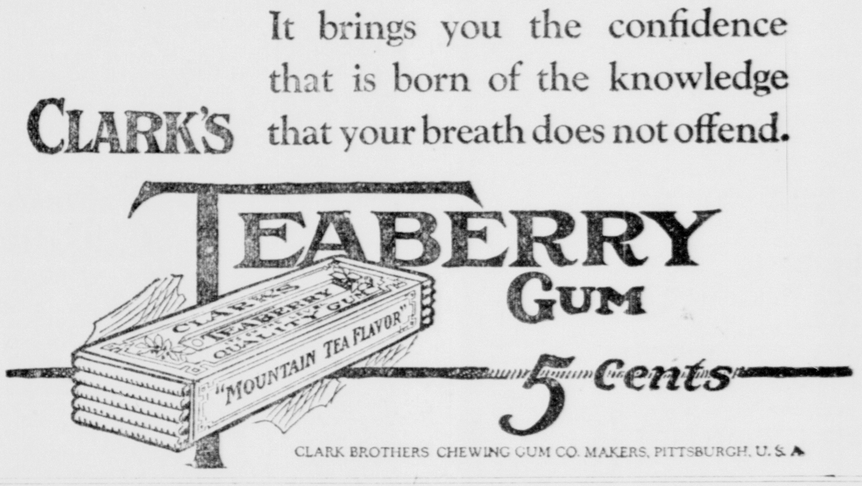

The attendance committee includes: J. B. Gibbs, chairman, K. A. Oplinger, E. L. Keene, A. M. Wiggins, H. A. Hendrickson and C. W. Diehl, of the Westinghouse Company, Sharon; L. C. Mitchell, Packard Electric Co., Warren, O.; E. J. Friedrich, P. & O. Co., New Castle, Pa.; and W. S. Schmidt, P. & O. Co., Youngstown, O.

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? You are poisoned. The bowels are clogged and liver inactive. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients and olive oil. They act easily upon the bowels, free the system of poisons caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Be beautiful. Have rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy that make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

STOP THE FAT AND GET THIN

The way to reduction is to stop the formation of fat. Modern science has found that way—by turning your food into fuel and energy—by supplying a natural element that helps do that. It is much better than starvation. That modern, scientific method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Now the results in slender figures, new beauty and vitality, are seen everywhere.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So you know the effects are beneficial, and why they all occur. Learn what so many have learned in 20 years about it. Do it now. Ask your druggist for a $1 box of Marmola and learn what it means to you.

PUPILS PRESENT GOOD PROGRAM

Sunny Avenue School Has Parents-Teachers Meeting At Union High

Pupils from the Sunny avenue school, Union township, gave a splendid program at the Parent-Teachers meeting in the Union high building, Scotland Lane, Monday evening. The program was in charge of the four teachers of the Sunny avenue building, Mrs. Ruth Withers, John Turek, Miss Edith Sankey, health education supervisor, and Mrs. Anna Rowland, principal.

The program was as follows:

Recitation, "Happy Days"—Mary Ellen Brown, grade 4.

Recitation, "Laddies"—Len Melnyk, grade 3.

Chorus, "Cherry My Dear," "Don't You Worry"—Grade 5.

Recitation, "It Can Be Done"—David Campbell, grade 6.

Recitation, "Wreck of the Hesperus"—Helen Snyder, grade 5.

Chorus, "Cobler's Song, "Star Child"—Grade 4.

Spanish War Vets Have Social Meeting

Enjoyable Event Is Held At Legion Home On Tuesday Evening

Social meeting of Daniel Leasure Camp, Spanish-American War Veterans, and its auxiliary, held last night in the Legion Home, was a decided success in every way, there being approximately 75 persons in attendance, including a number of visiting auxiliary members from Pittsburgh and other special guests.

The opening feature of the evening was the oyster and weiner supper served by the committee of the auxiliary appointed for the occasion. After this had been enjoyed remarks were made by Mrs. Bertha McKnight and Mrs. Millvina Jamison, past presidents of Mattie B. Purucker Auxiliary of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Bertha Welsh, also a member of the same organization.

Mrs. McKnight spoke of the manner in which her auxiliary increased its membership and invited the local ladies to attend the meeting to be held in Pittsburgh on March 22, and at which the department president will be present. The other visiting ladies told how pleased they were to be present and offered their services in assisting the local auxiliary to become one of the best in the state.

The balance of the program, which was informal, consisted of a solo dance and encore by Mary Elizabeth Suber, with Nellie Brady as accompanist, and remarks by H. K. Bell and Frank S. Nessle. Mrs. E. J. Suber, president of the auxiliary, presided during the program, while Homer Drake said grace at the beginning of the supper.

The supper was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present and was the result of the untiring efforts of Mrs. W. H. Dunlap, chairlady; Mrs. Milton Tyler, Mrs. Edward Carr, Mrs. William Marso and Mrs. Charles Fullerton. The table was very prettily decorated with small American flags and red, white and blue candles.

After the supper and program the evening was spent in playing bingo and social chat.

Sermon On Faith At Central Christian

Evangelist Walker Preaches A Special Message To Men Tuesday Evening

The immense audience that thronged the Central Christian church at last night's service, surpassed anything that has taken place since the beginning of this evangelistic campaign which is being conducted by Evangelistic Walker.

A fine delegation with their male quartet which rendered two numbers from Edenburg was present, also David West sang a solo which gripped the hearts of the audience and prepared them for the great sermon on he subject "The Faith That Saves." The K. E. Smith Bible class attended the service in a body and gave it a lot of encouragement.

As Mr. Walker began his sermon which was one of the best during this series so far, called attention to the marvelous events that had been accomplished during the olden times through faith and began his application by saying that faith in Jesus Christ was absolutely necessary to one becoming a son of God and entering into the eternal bliss. He also urged that we send the Christ to the lost world so that all men may become Christians.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the beginning of the service tonight after which the evangelist will preach on the subject "Repentance that Counts.'

The congregations of the Enon Valley and Madison avenue Christian churches will attend the services this evening.

Senate's Probe Of Soft Coal Strike Will Open Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 7—The senate's investigation into the soft coal strike was scheduled to get under way today before the interstate commerce committee.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was called first to present the union's side. The union requested the inquiry, charging that a 'conspiracy" existed in Pennsylvania to depress wages and destroy the organization.

A sub-committee of four senators made a first hand inspection of mining camps in the Pittsburgh district and central Pennsylvania. They reported that conditions they found were "a blotch on American civilization".

Rentz Tells Of Visit During Southern Tour To City Of New Orleans

Continuing his interesting series of letters during his tour of the south and southwest, Fred L. Rentz, president of the News Castle News, in his communicative way gives his impressions of the famed southern city, New Orleans. The letter follows:

New Orleans, March 2, 1928.

George W. Conway,
Editor The News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear George:

The last letter I wrote you was from Huston, Texas. We left that place last Monday morning at 9:30 and traveled all day coming here on a fast Frisco-New Orleans train, not a stop being scheduled for 360 miles. While we passed through some wonderful cattle and farming country, the greatest part of the way we saw nothing but swamps, water and cypress trees standing in the bogs.

That horrible Spanish moss was draped like crepe on about 95 per cent of the trees along the railroad. It sure is the gloomy stuff; looking something like hay that has been left out in the weather all winter and draped on every limb of a tree like Billy Goat whiskers.

We saw the best herds of cattle in the southwest in this part of Texas and Louisiana.

We crossed the great Mississippi river twelve miles west of New Orleans. The train was cut in three parts four cars to a section and run onto a ferry boat, engine and all, and in less time than it takes to tell it the train was over the river, back on the track and flying towards New Orleans. It was a quick job and if one was not on the ferry and saw the act it would not be noticed. There was not a jar or a bump. The river was about a mile wide at the ferry.

The name of this city is pronounced as if spelled Nu Or-lans, with the accent on the "Or".

It is a wonderful city. We missed the Mardi Gras and incidentally hotel rates of from fifteen to twenty-five dollars a day, European Plan. It would take some time to see all the interesting things to be seen here.

So far we have seen no statues of Washington, Lincoln, Grant or other heroes we hear of in the North. Here we see the statues of Lee, Jackson, Beauregard, Jefferson Davis and others. This must be an oversight surely. And we do not have any monuments in the North like they have here either, so it's fifty-fifty.

On Wednesday we went to the hoss races with Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Bott, who is the southwest representative of the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. They have two great race tracks here and on Wednesday it was not a good day as only about ten thousand enthusiasts turned out to see the ponies run and to lose their money. Such betting and losing it has never been our pleasure to see. It was a sight worth seeing even if one didn't have any interest in the racing. The visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bott was highly enjoyed, as they are real people.

We had a hard time getting the Mississippi river fixed in our noodle. It is a wonderful piece of work and has to have sideboards on it on both sides to keep it from slopping over during a flood. If it breaks through the levee it's all off with a big slice of the landscape. The levees are built of dirt and stone and at the base are sixty feet wide and taper to the top and run from sixteen to twenty feet above the level of the river. The land is from three to fifteen feet below the level of the river at some points, so it can easily be seen why these huge banks are necessary to keep the water from running out of the channel. The crawfish dig small holes in the levee and when the water starts running through this small opening it soon washes out a hole a city block can fall into with room to spare. They watch the small holes with both eyes and listen also with both ears. The levee must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated.

The Gulf of Mexico is just 110 miles from New Orleans. Yes, we also thought this city was right on the gulf. The river averages a width of three-fourths of a mile. It also averages a depth of 60 feet, but in one short narrow channel it is 260 feet deep. One can drown comfortably any place in it. There are no bridges across the Mississippi below Memphis, Tenn.

The population of New Orleans is 425,000. It is the second largest port in the United States and the fourth largest in the world.

Vessels from every nation in the world are anchored in the river between New Orleans and the gulf.

The Mississippi river forms a perfect S as it flows through Nu Orlans, and naturally at one point in this S the stream flows directly north, the only place it does this from it's source to the gulf of Mexico.

Nu Orlans has been fortunate in having given to it many University buildings, college and school buildings by patriotic citizens.

John McDonough, who was not good enough to be the husband of a Southern belle, because her parents objected to it, got peeved and left several million dollars for the purpose of building public school buildings. To date his money has built just 29 handsome buildings. He made the boast that he would be remembered longer than the parents who objected to his marrying their daughter. He died a hermit, but his money keeps his memory alive and once a year thousands of school children gather around his monument and scatter flowers on it and sing his praises. The city pays for the upkeep of the school houses but the interest on his money builds a fine new school house every now and then. Most any city would be glad to have a pudding like that.

Everything that is "good" in New Orleans is "Creole." The highest praise that can be bestowed upon any article for sale along the streets and in the country one hears continually the application, "Creole chickens," "Creole eggs," "Creole ponies," "Creole vegetables," etc. The term is used to distinguish the commercial produce of New Orleans and of Louisiana as distinguished from that brought in from the North and West.

One hears, too, the term "Creole negroes," but it must be remembered always that this is a fine distinction, meaning the blacks and colored people that are Louisiana bred and born and French-speaking, as distinguished from the negroes of other States. "Creole" means "white," though, as already seen, it has been given many shades of signification—shades which have been taken up by ignorant scribblers and gradually accepted by many Northerners as meaning Louisianians of mixed blood. Nothing is more erroneous. The term "Creole," according to such a standard as Webster and Worcester, signifies "a native of Spanish America or the West Indies, descended from European ancestors." In Louisiana, "Creole" has much the same meaning that "Knickerbocker" has in New York. There never was a nobler or more pure-blooded race than the Creoles of Louisiana, who are proud of their descent from the best families of France and Spain, and who apply to themselves the term "Creole" to distinguish the "old families" of the State from the families of emigrants of other countries.

This is a city of romance, history, war and of heroes. Space will not permit going into details, lack of knowledge is also a good reason for not going into it more fully.

The French market, the antique shops, French restaurants and many other points in Old Nu Orlans are well worth visiting. More garlic is raised in Louisiana and also sold than in any other two states in the union. It is hauled to market here in truckloads.

The graves in the cemeteries here are all on top of the ground, a sort of a vault being built over the top of the casket. There are also large vaults which holds several bodies. This is on account of the water soaked soil. Water is struck a few feet from the surface.

The longest bridge in the world is across Lake Pontchartrain, here being eight miles in length. This lake is a salt water body and is fed and connected by the Gulf of Mexico.

There are many fine big hotels here. We are at the Roosevelt and it has 1,200 rooms. It sits between two streets and it's lobby faces both streets. One goes from one street to the other right through the lobby of this hotel, it's offices being on either side of the passage way. This lobby is always full of race horse men and one can almost smell the livery stable by the talk one hears.

I noticed an item in the Hints and Dints column of The News a few days ago where Joe Bulger told of getting a card from me and he could not read the writing on it. There is no use his keeping it as we will not be able to read it either when we get home. However, we want to assure him there was no grammer on it that would not pass through the mails.

On Friday while reading Wednesday's issue of The New Castle News I received the shock of my life when I saw the account of the death of my dear life-long friend S. Plummer Emery. He came into my office the day before we left home and bid me good-bye. He did not even seem sick and joked with me. Judge Emery and I were children together, living on Oak street and had been the warmest of friends during our entire lives. His death grieves me greatly. He was a true friend to me and I have always respected him as such. New Castle suffers a distinct loss in the death of Judge Emery. He was a real man and a good citizen. Peace be to him is my prayer.

The word Parish is used here where we use the word county in the North, meaning the same thing.

At one time the government operated a big mint in this city. It was used for the coining of silver and millions of silver dollars and coins of lesser denomination were coined here. The building is now being used by the government for offices and other things.

We leave here tomorrow, Saturday morning for a trip on a ship on the Gulf of Mexico and it will take two days, or forty-eight hours for the journey.

Yours truly,
FRED L. RENTZ.

Grandmother Knew

there was nothing so good for congestion and colds as mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered.

Musterole gives the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomaches are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Dry Enforcement Work In U. S. Being Surveyed

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 7—Prohibition "GHQ" today launched a general survey of enforcement conditions in United States preparatory to laying out a campaign of action for the next year.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman and Customs Commissioner E. W. Camp will depart for Florida to join Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran and coast guard officials in an inspection of the country's winter playgrounds.

Deputy Commissioner Alf Oftedal is in California studying conditions of the far west, while Field Supervisor H. H. White is expected to make an investigation of the situation along the Canadian border shortly.

All prohibition administrators have been asked to make reports to the treasury as to their requirements in men and equipment. These reports, combined with information obtained by officials, will form the basis for the plan to attack the bootleggers.

Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard, just returned from Florida and laid a report of smuggling conditions before Lowman.

Effective Blockade.

Lowman said that there is a heavy concentration of coast guard forces in the southeast and that an effective blockade has been thrown around Florida. As the Florida season is drawing to a close information obtained on the present trip will be employed in preparing next winter's southern campaign.

It was anticipated that a portion of the forces now in the south would be withdrawn at the end of the winter season and deployed along the Canadian boundary, principally around Detroit.

Some concern was expressed at the increasing efficiency with which bootleggers are operating. Bootlegger "chains", comparable to the grocery chain system, are even beginning to make an appearance.

The "cash and carry" bootleggers are giving way to the higher class distributors who handle their business with a selected list of customers thru telephone orders and efficiency delivery methods. The raid of an extensive telephone-and-delivery bootlegger den in New York disclosed that in virtually all cities this system is now being employed.

The old fashioned speakeasy is apparently on the decline.

Re-Hearing Granted In Controversy Over Removal Of Poles

City Desires To Offer Testimony Showing Action Taken In Telephone Case

In the case of Jose S. Rice and Scott Paisley against the Citizens Telephone company, growing out of the removal of some poles from the streets of New Castle, a petition was presented by the city solicitor, Robert M. White, this morning asking for a re-hearing. It was contended that when the testimony previously taken had been written out that it was ambigious and misled the court into believing that the city had participated in an arrangement with the receiver and the P. & O. Electric company for the removal of certain poles, whereas in fact, if such an arrangement was made the city had no knowledge or part in it.

It was asked that the case be reopened in order that the city might present testimony for the purpose of showing that the receiver was notified to remove certain dangerous poles. It was stated that the city never consented to any delay, that the receiver had ample time to remove the poles but had neglected to do so. The petition was granted.

Judgment Awarded To Plaintiff In Dairy Company Case

Question At Issue Was Whether Agreement Was Conditional Sale Or Bailment

An opinion was handed down by Judge Hildebrand in court here this morning in the case of the Greenville Dairy Company against Walter Dietterle, in which it is held that the plaintiff is entitled to recover judgment against the defendant for $409.55.

The case was one in which a writ of replevin was issued for a refrigerating system which plaintiff had entrusted to Steve Subashe and which Dietterle had bought at a sheriff sale as the property of Subashe.

When the case was submitted it was agreed that if the court found that a written agreement made by the dairy company with Subashe was a conditional sale, judgment should be entered for the defendant; but if the court should find that the agreement was a bailment or lease, the decision should be for the plaintiff. The court holds that the agreement was one of bailment and not a conditional sale.

Induct 15 Members Into Senior Hi Y

Plans Are Made For Inter-Hi Y Athletic Meet With Sewickley

Fifteen new members were taken into the Senior Hi Y club when the formal ritualistic induction ceremonies took place early this week, announces John C. Leonard, boys' secretary at the Y. M. C. A. who was in charge of the meeting.

Boys who were formally taken into the club were Arthur Meek, Mac Chambers, Joe Lockley, John Piper, James Remley, Wayne Owen, Paul Palmer, William Shira, William Leishman, George Anderson, Paul Heasley, Melvin Moorehouse, Phil Chambers, Bill McLaughlin and Cliff Pollock.

Plans were made for the inter-Hi-Y athletic meet with Sewickley Hi-Y, which will take place at New Castle Wednesday, March 21. It was announced that the date for the annual M. U. F. campaign which will be conducted by the Hi-Y club is set at March 26. Eight members of the club will attend the pre-college conference which will take place at Sewickley, March 23, 24, and 25. Plans were also made for the annual Girls' Night banquet to be held either April 13 or 20.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The drive of Peace organizations against naval preparedness is continuing unabated throughout the country despite the action of the House Naval Affairs committee in slashing the Wilbur $740,000,000 ship building program to $274,000,000 Rep. Britten (R) of Illinois, acting chairman, said today, in pleading with the house rules committee for early consideration of the bill in the house.

The committee noted a special rule for consideration of the bill, on Thursday, March 15.

Labor Leaders Under Arrest

John Brophy And Patrick Toohey At Liberty Under $1,000 Bond

CHARGE VIOLATING SHERIFF'S ORDERS

International News Service.

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—Charged with inciting a riot and unlawful assembly, John Brophy, former District United Mine Workers president, and Patrick Toohey, former local leader of the union in the Canonsburg district, were at liberty in $1,000 bond each today.

They were arrested when state troopers broke up a strikers meeting at Renton late yesterday. State police said the nature of their speeches constituted a violation of the Sheriff's proclamation restricting activities of strikers and their assemblages.

One of the arresting state troopers, a former marine, particularly incensed at Toohey's remarks about sending the marines to Nicaragua and China and struck the speaker several times knocking him down, it was stated.

Brophy told the Renton miners he and Toohey came to them as representatives of the "save the union committee," an organization which is not recognized by the United Mine Workers. The speakers bitterly assailed John L. Lewis, International Union President, for his conduct of the strike.

Their hearing was set for next Wednesday before Alderman George S. Wilson.

Mercer May Have An Old Home Week

Legion Makes Plans To Celebrate 125th Anniversary Of Town

MERCER, Pa., March 7.—An old home week for Mercer, celebrating the 125th anniversary of the town founding, is being seriously considered at the present time by local folks for holding during the week of the Mercer fair, occurring the week of September 9.

If the American Legion can secure the proper support they will sponsor the program. A committe has already been appointed to feel out sentiment.

On the date of August 2, 1803, the town was plotted by a crew of three surveyors headed by John Findley of the famed family of that name who were pioneer settlers of the community and for whom the township adjoining Mercer is named.

The old surveying instrument used for this work is in the possession of John Findley of Sewickley, a descendant of the pioneer town-maker.

It could no doubt be secured for this week, along with other historic relics that would make the exhibition of them of real value.

Combined Choirs To Give Cantata

Rehearse For Musical To Be Given Easter Sunday At Mercer

MERCER, Pa., March 7.—An Easter cantata by the combined choirs of the First Presbyterian, Second U. P. and Central Presbyterian churches is carded for the evening of Easter in the Central Presbyterian church.

Rehearsals for the event are now taking place under the direction of V. L. Fleck, the leader of the Central Presbyterian choir.

A choir of 50 voices will be obtained by the combining of the singers of the three churches into what will be one of the biggest events of the Easter season.

MEMBER QUALITY BAKERS OF AMERICA By Invitation Only
This Mark Stands for Bread Goodness

Bread and Butter!

You know that Bread and Butter are the two articles of food that cooperate more smoothly and satisfactorily than any other two articles.

There is no competition between them.

We are so proud of the good quality of our bread, that we 90 members of Quality Bakers of America, serving the people in 90 sections of the United States, do not want the taste of our bread spoiled by having it spread with poor butter.

Therefore, we urge everybody liking our quality bread (there are millions that do like it) to insist on their grocers serving them with Quality Butter.

You see, we are not selfish.

Good Butter men will appreciate, we are sure, this little boost that we are giving their product, but we hope at the same time that all of them will be as conscientious and as earnest about serving grocers with Quality Butter as we are in serving them with Quality Bread.

And are we not putting a practical thought in your mind to be always sure to use good butter with good bread?

And are we not doing the fair thing by the grocers who are always so loyal to us in the distribution of our Quality Bread?

We believe that every grocer, consistently selling good bread and good butter —is well on his way toward establishing a fine reputation in his community as a reliable business man, always looking after the best interests of the public.

WELL-KNOWN MAN IS GIVEN RELIEF; SUFFERED YEARS

Declares Sufferers Will Never Forget The Benefits Ten Herbs Gives.

"Although I had suffered with stomach trouble the past four years, and had sought relief by taking almost every kind of medicine, I got very little help, until I used Ten Herbs, which made me feel like a different person," was the statement of Mr. C. P. Boyd, 66 Jefferson Street, Washington, Pa., to the Ten Herbs Man who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine.

"After eating, gas would form, and I would belch a great deal," continued Mr. Boyd, who is well known, having been employed in the retail meat business for sixteen years. "If I went upstairs, or would walk any distance uphill, my heart would flutter, and I would be compelled to stop and rest—sometimes I could go no farther. I was so restless at night that I could not sleep well, and of course, that, too, kept me from feeling good the next day. Constipation followed, and I was getting in such a bad condition that I could hardly work.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the local paper, and thought it might be just what I needed, as it seemed to fit my case. I purchased a bottle, and that surely was the best thing that I ever did to get relief. I never had anything to make me feel so differently. My stomach trouble is gone, and I can eat anything without having distress afterwards. My bowels are regular, and I sleep like I used to. I believe that if anyone who has stomach or bowel trouble will use Ten Herbs they will never forget the benefits they will receive. I surely can recommend your medicine very highly."

Benefit by the experience of other local people. Let this new herbal compound tone up your stomach, liver and kidneys. It will regulate your bowels, and have a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on your entire system, making you feel better in every way.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it to get the best results. Free sample given.

Topic for the Week
"RELIGION AND THE JOYOUS LIFE"

Wednesday
"Happiness Through Helpfulness."

SCRIPTURE: Memory verse: "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35).

Read: Acts 20:32-35.

MEDITATION: This is a saying that children and the immature can not understand. One never does comprehend the truth of it until he begins to invest himself in the welfare of others. When Jesus taught that happineses comes through helpfulness he was simply interpreting this universe and stating a law of life. Happiness is always a by-product. The man who sets out to seek it directly never finds it. We find it when we are looking for something else. Those who look for joy through a change of environment are on the wrong road. It comes from within, not from without. It does not lie in receiving, but in giving.

PRAYER: Deliver us, O God, from the self-centered life. Lead us forth from uneasy thoughts of self to the sunlit fields of service. Thou, O Christ, are the way: help us to walk in it. Amen.

See Big Advance In Safety Moves

Auto And Highway Construction Reflect Change Declares Hanlon

Two aspects of the prophecy that 1928 will mark the greatest advance in street and highway safety that are not generally recognized in their importance are those relating to the improvement in both automobiles and highways, is the opinion of Bernard N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club. The year, now new, already has seen remarkable advance recorded in making the automobile inherently safer, and the end of winter will mark the start of equally great progress in street and highway construction, Mr. Hanlon believes.

"There is no question that the intensive concentration of the nation's intelligent thought on the subject of safety, reflected in what will be a nation-wide, year round campaign toward the end of red reducing traffic accidents, will bear desirable fruit," he says. "Bulkwarking this interest and broader educational campaign are the changes wrought in the two main causes of accidents—the automobile and the street or highway.

"In the auto's realm, we have marked the passing of the two wheel brake on passenger cars. Now, almost every make from the cheapest to the most expensive have four four wheel brakes.

"As to changes in street and highway construction, the current year will witness widening and straightening operations of vital consequence. It will also see the improvement of secondary roads, which will divert a part of the burden of traffic from the main arteries of travel.

"The result of these changes will inevitably be greater safety."

FASHION EXPERTS

insist on Lux for their own things

MILLIONS and millions of dollars every year are entrusted to these clever women —the department store buyers of frocks and blouses, hosiery, underthings, gloves—the wardrobe of American women.

From the fashion centers of the world —New York, Paris, London—they select the season's most successful styles —the latest things in colors, in fabrics.

More than any other women—because they buy for all women—they must know how lustrous silks and soft woolens and lovely colored cottons will wear—how proper washing will keep them looking like new.

They know how easily every-day things, as well as exquisite flower-like garments, can be spoiled by wrong methods of cleansing.

In 112 of the most important stores in America—doing over three-fourths of all the large department store business*—women buyers told us just how they take care of their very own things. And we discovered that for washing their own silks and woolens—

These fashion authorities, knowing fine fabrics, will take no chances.

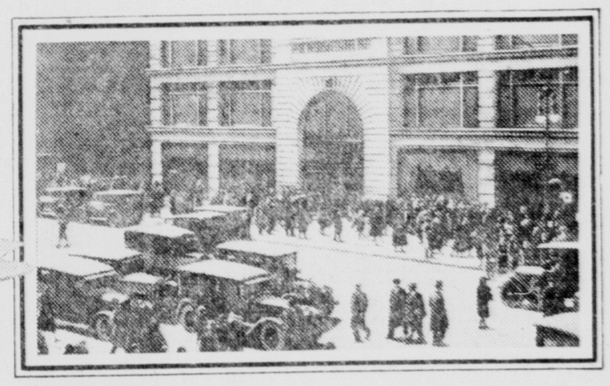

They insist upon Lux for their own things—for stockings and gloves and lingerie, negligées, sweaters and frocks. And they buy it in the familiar blue package found, investigations show, in 8 out of 10 representative homes in cities from coast to coast.

*Over three-fourths of all the large department store business in the United States is done by the stores of the following 26 cities, where 92% of the buyers interviewed use Lux:

Boston	Indianapolis
Providence	Chicago
New York	Milwaukee
Newark	Minneapolis
Philadelphia	St. Paul
Baltimore	St. Louis
Washington	New Orleans
Pittsburgh	Kansas City
Buffalo	Denver
Cleveland	Los Angeles
Akron	San Francisco
Detroit	Portland
Cincinnati	Seattle

Lux keeps things new-looking, makes them last far longer! The rich, safe Lux suds cleanse without rubbing — give silks a lovely sheen, keep woolens soft and unshrunken, gaily colored cottons and linens beautifully new.

Leading American department stores do a business of 2½ billion dollars annually. Like the great movie studios in Hollywood and the gorgeous musical shows of New York — department store buyers use Lux to keep clothes new-looking twice as long! And millions of women, customers of these very stores, use Lux—to save clothes and save money. Investigations show that 80% to 95% of the women interviewed in the cities listed above are Lux users.

Rev. E. H. Bonsall Delights Young People With Addresses

Mrs. Grace Benford Presented With Handsome Gift As Retiring Superintendent

Miss Letitia Brown Takes Active Part In Program Of Day, Giving Many Talks

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—A full and active day was enjoyed by members of the Young Peoples council of this community when the annual district conference took place Tuesday afternoon and evening in the auditorium of the United Presbyterian church. The two drawing cards for the conference were Miss Letitia Brown of this city, who is associate superintendent of the State Sunday School association with headquarters in Philadelphia, and Rev. E. H. Bonsall, superintendent of the association, from Harrisburg.

Afternoon Session.

The meeting opened with an afternoon session attended by 75 members of the Young Peoples council. At the first part of the session Miss Brown talked to a group of girls and Rev. Bonsal to a group of boys on the topic "Personal Standards". At the conclusion of these sessions, Miss Brown addressed the entire assemblage on "Training For Leadership". She has had ample experience along this line, and is herself a shining example of the theories she advocates, having attained a high position for a girl of her age in state work. At the close of the address members of the council enjoyed a recreation period of games and music in charge of Miss Brown, who brought some new ideas from Philadelphia.

Banquet Session.

At 6 o'clock 150 members of the local council and community associations, sat down to a delicious menu in the dining room of the church, the tables gaily decorated in St. Patrick colors, and ably served by members of the King's Daughters Bible class of the church.

At this time Walter Veon, retiring president, presided as master of ceremonies, introducing several of the council members who gave appropriate toasts to the leaders. A feature of this period was the presentation of a handsome leather purse to Mrs. Grace Benford as a token of appreciation of the council members for her efforts in starting them along their great work, and guiding them up to a month ago, when she had to give up the office of district superintendent. Her place has been taken by Norman Mortensen. Another feature of the meeting was the showing of wonderful moving pictures of the activities of Camps Kanasatake and Caledon taken during the past summer, and aptly explained with many witty remarks and anecdotes by "Bonny", as Rev. Bonsall is called by the council members.

Evening Session.

The evening session might be rightly called "Bonny's session" for he dominated the 150 members with his charming personality, driving home his theories with wit and humor and an underlying note of seriousness that caused the young people to remember, even while they chuckled. He chose as his topic "Putting First Things First and Shaping Our Lives by Christ's Ideals". When he finished, every one of those young people wanted to live according to his views, and doubtless made many pledges toward that ultimate achievement.

The musical program was in the hands of Miss Dorothy Kimes, who rendered a pleasing vocal solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Katherine Lundgren. Frank Richards gave an interesting talk from personal experience on the subject "Camp". The main facts concerning the summer camps on Lake Erie were given by Miss Letitia Baker, who mentioned the dates, tuition, term of each camp, etc. She explained that this next summer will see the initiation of an intermediate camp for girls and boys between the ages of 12 and 14. Her talk proved so interesting that the youngsters felt as though they were already in camp and were quite dashed when the meeting ended and they had to come down to a snow-covered earth.

New Officers Elected.

An impressive installation of the new officers for the ensuing year, who were elected last night, was performed by Rev. Bonsall and Miss Katherine Lungdren, with the candle light service. This pretty custom embraces the leader of the service holding a tall lighted candle, passing it to each of the new officers, who carry smaller candles. The officers were installed by Rev. Bonsall as follows: President, Miss Janet Gimmel; vice president, Dallas Veon; corresponding secretary, Loren Conner; pianist, Miss Marjorie Leibendorfer, and recording secretary, Miss Jessie Thomas. The interesting session concluded with the entire assemblage forming the friendship circle with crossed hands, making the salutory remarks accompanying the ritual. The closing prayer was given by Miss Letitia Brown, terminating one of the most successful Young People's council district meetings ever conducted.

Missionary Body Hears Interesting Papers At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar 7.—Members of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ed Spencer of Ewing Park with 16 members present.

Mrs J. I. Porter in charge of program presented the following ladies who read papers on "Responsibility:" Mrs. H. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Minnie Reynolds and Mrs. R. A. Snedden. Mrs. Porter then conducted a Query Box. Later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter Mrs. Clarence Wallace. The April meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. R. A. Snedden on Wayne avenue.

Women Hear Fine Educational Talk

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—Miss Lucy W. Black, supervisor of extension education of the state gave an excellent address before a large number of members of the Women's club and guests Tuesday afternoon on the occasion of the regular monthly meeting of the club in the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Black, well able from her wealth of experience dealt with the various phases of education and explained in interesting detail the campaign of the state to wipe out illiteracy. She quoted alarming statistics and gave the women present something to think about for a long while to come.

In addition to Miss Clark's talk interesting papers on "Hints to Home Gardners" were read by Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. H. R. Smith, Mrs. George Fisher and Mrs. Thomas Clark. The latter named had successful experience in her own garden having won several prizes in local flower shows. The same can be said of Mrs. H. W. Smith.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames A. M. Stevenson, J. H. Hough, C. W. Jackson and Frank Gardner.

Mrs. Eugene Swartz Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—Eight members of the J. E. B. club met at the home of Mrs. Eugene Swartz Tuesday evening for a delicious 6:30 dinner. Decorations were carried out in fragrant yellow daisies and narcissus. Mrs. Swartz was assisted in serving by her mother Mrs. Coral.

The ensuing hours were spent in bridge with two tables in play. At the conclusion of the games high score honors went to Mrs. J. O. Brown and consolation to Mrs. E. B. Moyer. The members are planning on a theater party in the future. The next meeting will take place in two weeks at the home of Mrs. L. O. Ullom.

Plan For Every Member Canvas Here

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—Members of the official board of the First Christian church conducted a regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the church and completed plans for the every member canvass which will be started one week from Sunday. At the conclusion of the transaction of routine church business the meeting adjourned until the April session.

Many Events At Knox Church In Next Few Days

The budget committee will meet in the church Wednesday evening at 7:30. Choir practice Wednesday evening at 8:30.

Thursday the Ladies Guild will hold an all day meeting. Tureen dinner. Mrs. Flinner and Mrs. Householder will be the hostesses. There is a lot of quilting to do.

Thursday evening at 7:30 the weekly prayer service will be held. After this meeting Dr. Greist of Point Barrow, Alaska, will speak. Dr. Greist is both a physician and minister and labors in Point Barrow Mission. This is the farthest north of any missions.

Saturday evening the Adult Bible class and the Ladies Guild will hold a joint meeting in the church. This will include the Sunshine party and Kitchen shower. A tureen dinner at 6:30. A general good time is planned for all.

Sunday morning March 11th, the every member canvass will begin. This is for the purpose of taking care of the budget for the next year.

Mrs. Harry Schott Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—Eight members of the J. A. P. club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Harry Schott Tuesday evening on the New Brighton road. Music and needle work were the diversions and a pleasant feature was a piano solo by Miss Margaret Schott.

Later light refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Amos Wiley. The members planned for a St. Patrick's party one week from Saturday night place to be determined later. In two weeks the club members will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Harry Bishop of Knox Stop.

BABY CLINIC.

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—The weekly baby clinic will be conducted in the Community service rooms with Dr. H. E. Helling in charge assisted by the community nurses. All local mothers are privileged to bring their babies for weights and measurements each week.

LADIES AID.

Ellwood School Board Meeting Tuesday Night

Many Important Matters Are Acted On At Night's Session

ELLWOOD CITY, March 7.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education in their rooms in the Lincoln building Tuesday night the following recommendations of the education committee, which had met the night before, were formally adopted by the board:

That Dwight Conner be re-elected principal of the Lincoln school, including the Senior High and Junior High next term, at a salary of $3200 for ten months.

That Frank Attinger, present principal of the Senior High be elected supervisor of instruction at a salary of $3100 per ten months.

That teachers in the Junior High be put on same salary as teachers in Senior High, providing they are college graduates, as many of the classes will overlap, with the two high schools being in the same building. It is planned to keep them as separate as possible, giving the entire third floor to the Senior High school students.

Do not employ teachers without class experience, in the first grade, and the Senior high school.

Teachers in the beginning classes, to be employed must be rated in the upper third in class teaching.

All teachers not taking some kind of professional work during summer months, must take it this summer, under requirements of the educational committee.

Teachers of the various departments are to be rated by the head of their department, then principal and then superintendent. If the rating is unsatisfactory, they are not retained, if rating is fair, and they are kept on, they will not be given the required increase.

Teachers absent from classes on account of illness will be paid one-half their salary for the days absent. The first year full salaries were paid, the board had a bill of $2500. The next year no salaries were paid, and the deficit was $400 dollars.

That there be an Institute Substitute next year with the teachers required to take this work for credits, and assessed one-half the costs.

Members of the board approved the bond of Hoyland Frasso, contractors and the bond of Stevenson, in charge of heating and ventilating on the third floor of the Lincoln building. Two other bonds have not been turned in as yet.

The tax collector turned in $3,000 in taxes and still has much more to collect before the end of his year.

The members discussed putting up the flag pole on the school grounds, but were in doubt as to the amount of cement which should be used in the base.

Mrs. Thomas Haines, president of the Women's Club, accompanied by Miss Lucy W. Black, head of the extension education of the state, visited the meeting last night, and Miss Black gave an interesting talk concerning the education of the foreign born mothers, who have not the opportunity of attending schools, night schools, or of picking up the American language in the mill, as their husbands and children have. At the conclusion of her talk, Miss Black had so impressed the board, that they voted to employ a teacher on this work and pay one-half her salary, if the other half could be raised outside.

Mrs. Haines stated that the members of the Women's Club were prepared to donate $35 toward beautifying the grounds surrounding the Lincoln building.

One Hundred Polish Rioters Arrested

(International News Service)

WARSAW, March 7.—Anti-semitic riots took on serious proportions in Lemberg today and 100 persons were injured, some of them badly.

Nationalist students ousted Jewish students from the Lemberg University. Then they proceeded to demolish the shops of Jewish residents. Many of the shop-keepers were badly beaten up.

The police interfered and arrested 250 rioters.

The riots are the result of ill-feeling following the Sejm election Sunday in which two Jews and one Pole were elected to represent the city of Lemberg.

Lemberg was part of Hungary before the war but was awarded to Poland after the latter was re-established as a power.

The Sejm is the Polish parliament.

THREAT WRITER HAS CONFESSED

(International News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 7.—Blaming moonshine for his downfall, Michael Buinickas, 32, police said today, confessed that he sent a threatening letter to the father of Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith College freshman-heiress.

The Lithuanian silk mill worker, father of three children, who was captured when he took a decoy letter from a box in the local post office, declared that he knew nothing of the whereabouts of the missing heiress. Police and federal authorities said they were inclined to believe him.

BULLET BRINGS WIVES TOGETHER

A policeman's bullet which seriously wounded the man they both claim as husband, has made Mrs. Hope Kelly, left, and Mrs. Thelma Kelly close friends. They met for the first time at the bedside of Roy D. Kelly, of Redding, Cal., in a Chico, Cal., hospital, who was shot by a patrolman who declared he attempted to escape arrest. The patrolman held a warrant charging forgery.

Zoning Board Grants Appeals

Action Taken At Session On Tuesday Afternoon In City Hall

Board of Zoning Appeals at its session Tuesday afternoon in the city council chamber heard three appeals and granted them, two on condition that certain things desired by the board were carried out.

The first of the cases was that of Mrs. H. K. Rayser, 1512 Grimes street, who desired permission to open a store in a dwelling house at that place. She appeared as did Attorney Rufus McKinley, the latter presenting a petition signed by forty neighbors on all sides, asking that the permit be granted. Abe Fisher, owner of the building around the corner on Electric street and which was formerly occupied by Mrs. Rayser appeared in opposition, the opening of a store as desired by Mrs. Rayser being contrary to the zoning regulations of the district. The board granted Mrs. Rayser a permit for six months.

W. H. Aubel, who desired permission to construct a dwelling house at 1408 North Mercer street, on what is the rear of two lots facing Sheridan avenue, showed how he planned to place the house back fifteen feet from the property line and a garage about forty feet back from the property line. As there was no opposition expressed, he was granted permission providing he placed the garage at the rear of the lot.

After hearing the request of John Dunkerley, 937 Rose avenue, for permission to enclose the west half of his front porch in glass, the board directed that he be granted a permit, when he presented the signed consent of property owners on both sides of his property. He stated at the hearing that none of his neighbors object and none were present to object.

The Daybook of a New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, March 7.—A tolerant and amiable attitude on the part of newspaper men is entertained toward the person who manages to get his or her pictures into the newspapers. A group of well-known aviators, including Bellanca, "Doc" Wright and some others, were discussing aviation at Roosevelt Field, when one of the listening reporters suddenly left the group to welcome a pleasant-faced, bespectacled gentleman who had just arrived, and brought him into the group.

"Gentlemen," he said, "let me introduce Mr. Heenan, 'Peaches' Browning's father."

It is against the rules of the subway companies for newsboys to sell papers on the platforms or in the trains of the company, and on several occasions urchins have been arrested for doing so. Newsboys with their arms full of papers are not allowed through the turnstiles. As a result a number of kids have the habit of getting into the crowded stations and digging old newspapers out of the discarded cans. These they fold into a semblance of newness and sell to the unsuspecting passengers. I paid a grimy lad three cents for a day-old newspaper yesterday. That kid will go far.

The New Yorker suggests that policemen in the Holland vehicular tunnel under the Hudson be given brass rings to twirl, which passing motorists may snatch to relieve the monotony of the trip. This idea would perhaps go far toward relieving the feeling of being gypped which must come to those who pay fifty cents to ride through the gloom of the tunnel on a rubber-neck wagon.

Now that the telephone company sanctions the French type of phone by making one of its own, countless subscribers are clamoring for them. At the present rate of installation it won't be long before the old upright variety is as rare as tea at a tea dansant. That is as it should be. The continental phone has the American variety licked in every way thinkable. Before the company appeared with their own make, bootleg instruments were sold at very high prices by private companies and promptly confiscated by the telephone company wherever found.

I note a sign in an employment agency on West Forty-Sixth street. "Wanted," it reads, "a flier to cross Atlantic—$1,000." Business is bad, it appears, when a man is expected to do a Lindbergh for a mere one grand.

PENNSY FREIGHT IS REPORTED DERAILED NEAR LEWISTOWN, PA.

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., March 7.—Nineteen cars of an eastbound Pennsylvania freight train plunged from the tracks at Longfellow, near here early today, blocking three of the four main lines.

Wrecking crews from Altoona, Lewistown and Enola was rushed to Longfellow to salvage the coal with which the cars were loaded. Through traffic was only slightly delayed, it was reported. No one was injured.

Standard Plate Glass Company Men On Strike

About 500 Employes Of Butler Plate Glass Concern Fail To Report For Work

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., March 7.—Employes of the Standard Plate Glass Company's plant here, about 500 in number, failed to go to work today. It is understood that the action was caused by the discharge of a man who was active in the strike, which ended February 15 after the plant was shut down for three months.

The workers returned to the plant three weeks ago after a compromise had been reached in a cut in wages, the agreement being half of the 15 and 10 per cent reduction proposed by the company. Workers charged that the company had not placed the compromise scale in effect.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Pineapple pie in a new version is included in today's recipes. Time was when this healthful and delicious fruit was hardly known, but now the reasonably priced canned variety, as well as the fresh in season, shipped to all parts of the country, make it available to all.

Mock Duck Baked Potatoes
Buttered Turnips
Orange and Endive Salad
Pineapple Pie Coffee

Today's Recipes.

Mock Duck—One and one-half pounds flank steak, have butcher score for stuffing. Wipe meat with damp cloth, sprinkle with salt. Spread with bread stuffing and roll like jelly roll. Tie with a cord that has been sterilized. Put in roaster and brown 15 minutes in hot oven. Add one cup hot water, reduce heat and cook one hour or until meat is tender. Make gravy by thickening sauce in pan.

Pineapple Pie—Drain juice from a No. 2½ size can pineapple. Add one-half cup sugar and heat to boiling point. Beat three eggs well and stir into the sugar-juice mixture. Cook until thick, stirring well. Set aside to cool. Cut pineapple into small pieces and place in baked pie shell, pour custard over and cover with whipped cream.

MENU HINT

A new dish for those of us who are avoiding too much meat in our diet is always interesting. Try the carrot loaf, the recipe for which is given in today's list. The cooky recipe may be just the one you have been looking for, and home-made cookies do beat the bakery kind, as far as taste goes, whatever may be said to the contrary. The menu will serve either for luncheon or supper.

Carrot Loaf
Cream Sauce with Peas
Head Lettuce or Cabbage and Apple Salad
Ice Box Cookies Tea

Today's Recipes

Carrot Loaf — Two cups ground carrots, one cup bread crumbs, two eggs, well beaten, one cup milk, four tablespoons butter, salt and pepper to taste. Mix in order given and form in loaf. Bake one hour and serve with cream sauce with peas.

Cream Sauce—Make a white sauce with one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour and one cup of milk. When it boils up and thickens season and add one cup of canned peas.

Ice Box Cookies—One and one-half cups shortening, two cups brown sugar, three eggs, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half cup nut meats, five cups flour. Cream shortening and sugar together. Add well beaten eggs. Sift flour once before measuring. Mix and sift together flour, cinnamon, soda and salt and add gradually to creamed shortening. Add chopped nuts. Roll into two rolls and let stand in ice box over night. In morning slice into thin cookies and bake on greased baking sheet in oven.

MENU HINT.

Hot soup to start the meal and hot biscuits provide the warm dishes for this home dinner. The egg in the tea biscuits, add food value besides being a variation from the usual biscuit.

Celery-Onion Soup Salt Pretzels
Cold Sliced Veal with Currant Jelly and Cottage Cheese
Egg Tea Biscuits Preserved Figs
Tea.

Today's Recipes.

Celery-Onion Soup—Boil three medium whole onions and outer fronds of celery stalk and a few celery leaves, one bay leaf and a few whole black peppers in plenty of water till vegetables are tender and liquor reduced to about two cups. Salt to taste, lift out leaves, leave in the onions and small pieces of celery. Add sufficient milk for number of servings, tablespoon butter and thicken slightly with flour, garnish with chopped parsley and thin sprinkling of grated cheese.

Egg Tea Biscuit—Two and one-half cups flour, three and one-half teaspoons baking powder one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar. Sift and rub four tablespoons shortening. Beat one egg in cup, fill cup with milk and mix with dry ingredients. Pat lightly on floured board, cut with large cutter, bruch with melted butter, fold half over like Parker House rolls. Brush top with butter and bake in quick oven 15 minutes.

Requested Recipe.

Sailor Duff—One egg, one-half cup molasses, two tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons butter one and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon soda. Beat all well together, lastly add one-half cut boiling water, steam one hour serve with foamy sauce.

NEW CASTLE AND MONACA PLAY TONIGHT

First Tourney Game For Locals Is With Section IV Winners

New Castle High School Basketball Team At Pitt Stadium Tonight

Locals Confident Of Putting Up Fast Game Against Winners Of Valley Loop

By "BUGS" WALTHER

REPRESENTING Section III of the W. P. I. A. L., the New Castle High school basketball team will play Monaca High, winners of Section IV, at eight o'clock tonight on the University of Pittsburgh stadium floor. The winner of the game tonight will play in the tourney again on Tuesday, March 13.

New Castle High school has already made one trip to the Pitt stadium, and this resulted in a smashing victory over Butler High school for the sectional gonfalon. The locals will again have the edge on their opponents, due to the fact that the Pitt stadium floor is almost like home now. The red and black passers have played four games at the stadium in the past two years. Monaca High has never before played at the Pitt floor and they will be lost on that big court, at least for the first few minutes, anyhow.

Big Floor Confuses

Butler High had a mighty fine team, and their defense on their own court was well nigh impregnable, but when they scampered over the hardwood at Pittsburgh last Friday night they became lost from themselves and the consequence was disheartening to the thousand or so that followed them to the big city with bands and caravans.

Monaca High is prepared to give the New Castle combination a good game tonight. The Monaca coach witnessed the New Castle-Butler game and was much impressed with the manner in which the Bridenbaugh machine performed. "It is going to take the best I have to stop that crew," were his exact words after watching the "steam roller" smooth out the rough spots in the opposition.

As explained before, Monaca High did not in reality win the sectional title this year. It was presented to them on the silver platter. Woodlawn High won the championship, but they were forced to relinquish the flag to Monaca due to the ineligibility of one of their players. Monaca High finished second and was therefore handed the honors.

Locals in Condition

New Castle High school team has held several important practice sessions since last Friday night and the boys are in shape to give the Monaca crew a hard tussle tonight. In the absence of Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh, who is at Martinsburg, Pa., for the funeral of his brother, the New Castle team tonight will be directed by Assistant Coaches Thomas and Klee and supervised by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner.

In the Clark brothers the Monaca team has a pair of forwards that will cause the locals plenty of trouble. They are fast and uncanny and very accurate with the globular plaything. Ford, at center for Monaca, is going to give Alexander a real fight. This youngster has been the sensation of the valley league this year and is reputed to be one of the best in the W. P. I. A. L. loop.

Tarmina and Fox will be used at guards by the Monaca team and they will have their hands full keeping an eye on Reider and Cuba. Reider, together with Ostrosky, played the leading part in the game last Friday night.

Following is the probable line-ups of the teams tonight:

New Castle		Monaca
Reider	F.	D. Clark
Cuba	F.	F. Clark
Alexander	C.	Ford
Ostrosky	G.	Tarmina
Sillman	G.	Fox

Epworth Ladies To Serve Banquet

Weingartner And Richards To Address Sportsmen's Association

Ladies of the Epworth M. E. church will prepare and serve the dinner when the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association holds its fifth annual banquet, March 21, at the Carnegie auditorium. Attorney Robert L. Wallace will be toastmaster and among the spokesmen will be Ross L. Leffler, president of the Pennsylvania game commission; Thomas Liggett, Pittsburgh, Cook forest commission; George Weingartner and Representative Bart Richards.

Special Train To Leave At 5:30 For Pittsburgh Game

The special train to Pittsburgh tonight for the New Castle-Monaca basketball game will be run over the Pennsylvania lines at 5:30 o'clock. train is due to arrive in Pittsburgh at 6:40 o'clock.

Following the game the special will steam out of Pittsburgh at 10:15 o'clock and arrive in New Castle at 11:25 o'clock, according to schedule. Tickets for the special are available at the Sporting Goods Store, high school and the Pennsylvania station.

East Liberty "Y" Team To Play In Tourney Saturday

The fast East Liberty Y. M. C. A. team will be entered in the Y. M. C. A. tournament to be held at the local Y. M. C. A. on Saturday of this week.

The East Liberty boys have played together for a number of years and are reputed to have a first class outfit. The Pittsburghers have played a number of the leading college teams in this district this season and have had a fairly successful season.

Wampum Wins From Enon Valley Five

Belated Rally Fails To Hinder 40 To 30 Victory For Wampum A. A.

(Special To The News)

ENON VALLEY, March 7.—Taking an early lead and keeping it throughout the game, the Wampum A. A. quintet won over the Enon Valley Community Five by a 40 to 30 score in a recent game played on the Enon Valley community house floor.

In the opening of the final session of the struggle, the local lads tried to stage a passing attack, which would place them in the lead. Trailing by 13 points, their rally brought them up to within five points of their opponents' lead. Anderson, local center, and an important cog in the Communiy Five offensive attack, was forced out of the game with a sprained ankle, with the result that the visitors completely demoralized the local rally, and when the final whistle blew Wampum had increased their lead to 10 points, winning handily by a 40 to 30 score.

Temple Quintet To Play At Ellwood

The Temple Israel quintet will journey to Ellwood City tonight to clash with the Clark Five. The game will be played on the Shelby foor as a preliminary game to the play-off between two of the leading Industrial teams of the Shelby Tube Mill league.

On Thursday night the Temple Israel team will play the B. M. D. club of Youngstown, O., at the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. floor. The locals have played two games this year with the B. M. D. team and each team has won a game. The Temples defeated the B. M. D. team for the first and only time this year.

The players are asked to report tonight at Zieve's store at 6:30 o'clock.

SPORTRAITS

RENE LA COSTE

Rene La Coste, mainstay of the French tennis team, faces the possibility of being left off the squad chosen to defend the Davis Cup because of an attack of neuritis.

Lacoste defeated both Bill Johnston and Bill Tilden at Philadelphia last fall and it was his victories which gave France the necessary margin to win the cup.

With Lacoste out the United States would stand an even chance at winning back the cup. With him in, France is conceded able to walk away with the matches.

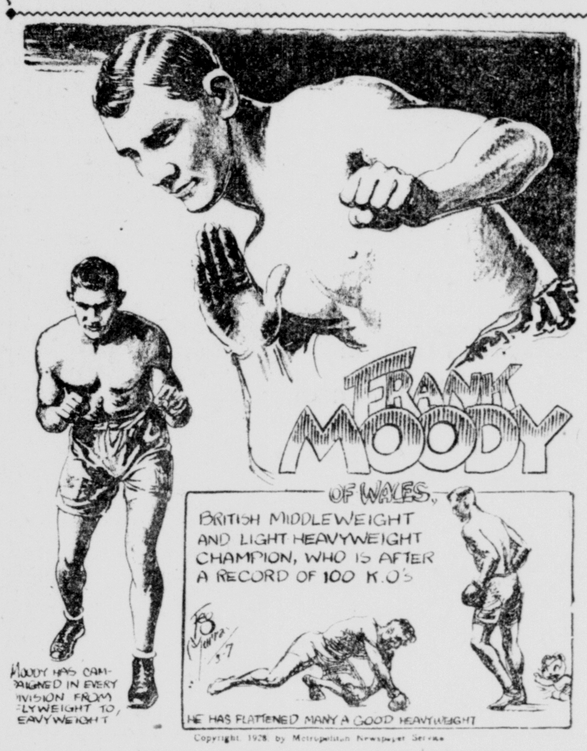

JOE SEWELL

Little Joe Sewell, Indian shortstop, has come to terms with his bosses, the Cleveland club, after two months of bickering and dickering.

Joe came to the tribe in 1920, straight from the University of Alabama. In the seven years he has played in organized ball, he has taken part in 1,097 games, missing only two contests.

A Socking Welshman — By Feg Murray

Here is Frank Moody, a middleweight with heavyweight title ambitions. Frank Moody, in case you don't know it, is the current middleweight and cruiserweight (light-heavy) champion of England. He was born in Wales in 1902, and in Wales, so they say, they think more of him than they do of young Albert Edward Windsor, alias Lord Renfrewe, the current Prince of their district. Moody, at least, doesn't fall off a horse so often.

Frank Moody has had his ups and downs in the ring, as have many other good fighters, but it seems he has been particularly effective against the big boys. Listed among the heavies whom he has put to sleep are Pat McCarthy, Kid Norfolk, George Cook, and Jack Stanley (to whom he conceded 40 pounds in weight). Cook, K. O.'d by Moody, licked Tom Heeney, while Stanley lost a 15-round decision to the famous New Zealander. Frank has bowled over two other gents who went the distance with Heeney—Max Gornick and Tom Barry.

Moody is after the world's record of one hundred knockouts, held by George K. O. Chaney. To date Frank has turned in 86 and expects to run off the next 14 within two years. He will be in America again before long, and hopes to show that the British Isles are not entirely passe as far as producing good fighters goes. I also notice from Frank Moody's record that he knocked out one Vincent Lopez in four rounds in 1926. Having heavyweight aspirations, it is expected that he will soon come out with a challenge to Paul Whiteman.

Feg Murray Says—

New Castle Team Leaves For Scene Of Tourney Game

New Castle High School Basketball Team Goes To Pittsburgh This Afternoon

The New Castle High school basketball team boards the 2:49 train at the P. & L. E. station this afternoon, bound for Pittsburgh, where tonight at eight o'clock at the Pitt stadium floor the locals will clash with Monaca High in the initial game of the second round of the W. P. I. A. L. tourney.

The team will quarter at the Schenley Hotel upon their arrival in Pittsburgh. The team tonight will be directed by Thomas and Klee in the absence of Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh, who is attending the funeral of his brother at Martinsburg, Pa.

Plan Bench Show Here During May

Lawrence County Kennel Club Votes To Display Their Dogs

Members of the Lawrence County Kennel Club at a meeting at the Y. last night voted to apply to the American Kennel Club, New York, for permission to hold a dog show here May 25 and 26 at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. It is also possible that the Mahoning Beagle Club will also hold a show in connection with the Lawrence County Kennel Club.

The membership of the Lawrence County Kennel Club was increased to approximately 80 by the addition of six new members last night.

After the club had voted unanimously for the show Clare Hetrick of the Mahoning Beagle Club said beagle owners were interested and said their members would decide whether or not to hold a show in connection with the Lawrence County Kennel Club when they meet next Monday.

Elks Take Victory Over Highland 15-13

The Elks defeated the Highland team 15 to 13 in a junior league game at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Tuesday night.

The Highland boys had a lead of 9 to 4 at the end of the first half but failed to maintain their stride, and lost the decision by two points.

The summary:

Elks—15		Highland—13

Church Managers To Meet On Thursday

Managers and directors of the New Castle Church Baseball League will hold an important meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Christian church on the Diamond.

Rules to govern the coming baseball season will be mapped out and discussed by the managers. It is quite likely that a vote on the rules to be adopted this year will come at the meeting tomorrow.

All teams that were represented in the loop last year are asked to send representatives to the meeting.

George Textor May Be Pilot

Massillion Manager May Lead New Castle Club This Year

Although the report has not been confirmed, it is stated by a person close to the club officials that George Textor, manager of the Massillon Agathons may pilot New Castle this year.

According to the informant the members of the Massillon club would play under the name of New Castle when the team participates in ball games at Centennial field.

Some weeks ago efforts were made to secure Frank Mills, it is reported and for a time it was anticipated that he would handle the reins.

Lately there has been a shift in plans, the informant declared last night and Textor and his Agathons may wear the New Castle uniforms here this season.

Intra-Mural Champs Will Play Geneva

League Champs Of Two Schools Will Meet In Preliminary Game Thursday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 7—In the semi-final playoff in the Westminster college gym for the distinction of facing the winners of the Geneva intra-mural league champs at Beaver Falls Thursday, the Delta Phi Sigma and Pioneer teams beat the Kappa Phi Lambda and Phi Pi Phi teams in two fast games. The Delt-Kap score was 24-13 in favor of the Delts, while the Pioneers won over the Phi Pi's by an 18-10 count.

The finals of the playoff will take place today in the college gym when the leadership will be decided. The game with the winners at Geneva is a custom inaugurated last year when the Covenanters sent their champs to play a preliminary at New Wilmington.

Six Teams May Get Franchises

Lawrence County Baseball League Officers And Managers Meet

Alec Samuels, vice president of the Lawrence County Baseball league today reported that the circuit may be composed of only six teams this season.

Officers and team managers met last night and though baseball weather is some weeks distant, affairs of the league and prospects for the coming season were discussed.

The P. R. R., champions of 1927 will return to the fold and Pitcher Jamesen and Connie Wardman of Ellwood City may enter a team, according to a resport sent to the officers.

Bessemer, Energy, Wampum and Croton will probably be the other four teams in the league.

Grove City Defeats Allegheny Tossers

New Castle Is Ready To Enter Proposed Circuit

By ED FRITZ
Sports Editor.

"Everything looks bright for a short ship circuit throughout eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania," said Sam Marquis today in discussing the probability that the harness race circuit proposed here recently will be formed.

"New Castle is ready to join the circuit immediately," declared Marquis, who added that the $2,000 expense money necessary had already been over-subscribed and that he and Charlie W. Duff have now turned their eyes toward other towns in this vicinity.

According to horsemen's plans, Butler, Junction park at New Brighton, Conneaut Lake park, Warren, O., New Castle and either Mercer or Washington would be located on the circuit. It is not yet known if Mercer wants a place in the loop.

At the meeting one of the horsemen said that a tonic is needed for harness racing and the tonic should be the birth of interest in horses by young men. Scanning the crowd, the speaker said that apparently only the older gentlemen were lovers of harness racing.

Another speaker stressed the point that objection to harness racing had been removed by the advent of the money basis style which is nothing more than every heat a race. Time suppression has become a thing of the past and this should prove a tonic.

One of the principal reasons for desiring the short ship circuit is that trainers who now train their horses 10 months to race two months can really race their horses into form preceding the fairs and give them a chance to train more economically by winning.

Should the circuit be formed and Marquis and Duff, acting as organizers believe it will, class and stake races will be promoted and two-day meets will be held in each of the two towns with an attendance of 20,000 for the 12 days racing anticipated.

Owners of good horses in many states have already advised the proponents of the loop entries in the races. The purses will probably approximate $300 and $400 and with a strict hand in dealing with the way the loop is operated, if it is formed, it should be a tonic.

The gentlemen who attended the meeting here recently were:

J. A. Bradshaw, New Brighton; Roy D. Seeley, Warren, O.; George F. Hunter, Warren, O.; S. C. Holland, West Bridgewater; James L. Hoffman, West Bridgewater; J. Thomas Morgan, Beaver; Harry E. Goll, Beaver; R. R. McGeorge, Wampum; Eugene Newell, Beaver Falls; J. W. Hartwell, Sam F. Marquis, Charles W. Duff, William E. Marquis, Harry S. Green, Harper H. Dick, Alex T. McConaghy, Walter Johnson, T. F. Phillips, A. C. Shoaf, Crawford Shoaf, J. Ed McWilliams, J. J. Morrow, S. E. Whitedon, S. P. Pemberthy, John S. Crowl, J. N. Hyle and Bert E. Hagerty, New Castle; H. F. Brannan, Ambridge; J. Scott Rhodes, Beaver Falls; Dr. J. M. Dunkle, Butler; R. H. Heilman, Kelly Station; D. J. McCarthy, Ford City; R. D. Bradshaw, New Brighton; Henry Serene, Ambridge; W. T. Trying To Match 'Fitz' vs. Osborne

Match Between Lightweights Pending Reply From "Fitz"

Promoter Bill Jolly of the Old Armory today stated that he is trying to match Freddy Fitzgerald of Youngstown with Zivie Osborne, Cleveland, lightweights, for next Monday night.

It is reported that Osborne and Fitzgerald staged a great bout not so long ago at Youngstown and both lightweights are anxious to get a second meeting.

Pitt Panthers Win From W. & J. Quintet

Pitt's basketball five scored their twentieth consecutive victory, last night, winning over Washington and Jefferson at Washington, Pa., 33 to 32 in an uphill battle. Pitt finished the first half with a lead of 12 points which was cut down by the Presidents in the second half and Pitt was lucky to win by one point.

Delts Win From Pioneer Five In College League

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON March 7.—In a play-off game to decide the probable winner of Westminster Intramural league, the Delts overpowered the fast going pioneers by a score of 26-14 on Tuesday afternoon at the college gymnasium. The Delts however are not sure winners as a number of games remain to be played.

The game which was necessitated by a tie for first place in the Intramural league was played so as to determine Westminster's representative in the Geneva preliminary on Thursday night. By virtue of their win over the Pioneers, the Delts will furnish the opposition for the Intra-mural champions of Geneva.

Last year in the Intra-mural league game between the two colleges, Westminster's representative the Phi Pi's won handily.

By ED. FRITZ

Not a quitter or ochre-striped follower of the ring where the badge of courage is an asset.

That's our opinion of Eddie Kilvady who apparently having Jack Fink prime for a knockout discovered that there is many a slip betwixt the cup and the lip.

Kilvady fought the kind of a battle that helped Jack show his best—a left jab and a right cross, the old "one-two" which sent out accurately rarely fails to net a knockout or slow up an opponent.

As the fight progressed at the Old Armory, we penned a few notes and here are the words in the book:

"In Round One the Old Man gave the Kid with the florid tights a boxing lesson and before the sesion was half fought the Kid's lips were red and his midriff showed red blotches.

"There was nothing to the initial chapter but the Old Man He waited patiently and when the Kid, game but foolishly piled in chin held high, the got the full force of the Old Man's punches, timed nicely.

"When the Kid got close he punched viciously to the stomach—and he hurt Jack. The Old Man winced drew in his stomach as he breathed deep, trying, evidently to brace and withstand the youngster's wallops.

"But the Kid was strong as he went to his corner at the bell.

"He came out, hands high, chin down in the second and then with head lowered like a bull took a right uppercut to the chin that almost dropped him. He reeled, clinched, they broke and then the Kid sent a hard right uppercut to the Old Man who's legs were weary. Jack went down hard. He grovelled in the dust of the ring and resin was on his face as he painfully and partly instinctively crawled to a knee. He got up at Nine and the bell saved the Old Man from the Kid's fury.

"Fink recuperated during the intermission but Father Time is one whom a pair of legs can't cheat and rather than spend what little strength he had in his cramped pins Jack waited for Kilvady to rush in and the Kid in his eagerness to make fruit of the knockdown in the second took many stiff jolts, the Old Man's boxing getting him an even break.

"The Kid came strong at Fink in the fourth and Fink caught him with a right to the chin on the ropes. They fought across the ring. Fink jabbed then shot a stiff right against the jaw, followed with a left to the chin and Kilvady staggered like a blade of grass whipped by the wind.

"Fink lost no time in shooting half a dozen more right and left blows to the chin and then the glass-eyed Kilvady pitched forward, face down and struck the floor. He laid there still down and out. A towel sailed from a corner and he was dragged like so much beef to his corner where the seconds worked over him."

No, a man who quits never falls flat forward with his nose pointed for the floor. They generally try to sag to the floor—and they generally do it so slowly that the prase "Hunting a soft spot" born a decade ago still survives. We have seen a few fights and a person may sham but Mr. Kilvady didn't sham.

Anent the Drake-Slate bout, Slate beat him and beat Jack fair Monday night and for the time both have been in the ring "Heinie" as he is hereafter to be known to us, is a better boy than Drake. His faculty of imbibing tutoring, in our opinion, is 50 percent better than Drake possesses.

He swings like a rope it is true, but unlike Drake, takes instantaneous advantage of a "break." Teach "Heinie" something about boxing and he should make a fairly good boy and to be frank about it a better boy than his brother Johnny. Drake has been boxing a year, Heinie Slate a month. Yet Slate won.

Joe Blow blew and perhaps it is just as well that he did because he won't mingle with the light-heavyweights here any mode. Blow was not out. He took a pasting from Emil Small Neck who was somewhat of a slow to act fighter. He could have stepped in any time and finished Blow owing to his long reach. Small Neck will have to show aggresiveness beside a jab and a straight right. But he's young. He may come along.

A telephone report says that Carl Carvellie formerly of this city defeated Al Taylor in Lorraine several nights ago. Carl has fought Willie Davies and a host of good boys and as Al looked good against Babe Rivers it might not be a bad idea to give them a shot some of these weeks. The next fight looks like Freddy Fitzgerald who knocked out Mickie Solomon and Zivie Osborn. They say Osborn once whipped Freddy. Georgie Harris also wants a second crack here.

Auto Show To Be All-New Castle

Dealers Make Show 100 Per Cent Local; Use Local Entertainment

That the New Castle Auto Show, to be held March 22 to 24 in the Scottish Rite Cathedral ball and dining rooms, will be 100 per cent New Castle, even down to the decorations and entertainment, was decided when the New Castle Auto Dealers Association met to discuss the project Tuesday noon in the dining room of the Elks Club.

One of the features of the show will be the appearance of the Castle Quartet, local musical organization who have been featured on radio programs many times. Orchestras, all local, will furnish continuous music from the time the show starts until the last lights go out Saturday evening, March 24.

As a centerpiece of the entire exhibit of 82 cars, there will be an airplane, recently purchased by Jack Crowl. All decorations will be floral, and furnished by New Castle florists.

P. H. C. MEETING

The regular business meeting of New Castle Circle No. 5, P. H. C., will be held on Thursday evening at 7:30. Items of importance will be discussed. A social hour will close the session.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

SOMEWHERE SOUTH, March 7.—Five years ago this spring John McGraw had his Giants rumbling along at a pennant-winning pace, you will recall. He won in 1921 and 1922, and already had his heart set on piling up a team record of consecutive flags. He eventually ran his string to four.

But to get back to the spring of 1923. For pitchers he had both the Barnes boys, Hugh McQuillan, Art Nehf, Rosy Bill Ryan, Jack Scott and the pinch pitching star, Jack Bentley, as his main works. There was also Mike Cvengros and Claude Jonnard, youngsters of promise.

There was one other young prospect, Rube Walberg. He was let out, but now, however, John McGraw would give much for the Rube, one of Connie Mack's mainstays. McGraw needs young pitchers. He is far from satisfied with his staff, despite the acquisition of Vic Aldridge in the deal with the Pirates.

Only two men appear on the Giant roster today who wore the New York uniform in the spring of 1923—five years ago. The two are Virgil Barnes and Travis Jackson, team captain.

The infielders of that 1923 team were Dave Bancroft, Frank Frisch, Heinie Groh, Jackson, George Kelly, Johnny Rawlings, Freddy Maguire and Jack Bentley. There was also young MacPhee on the roster.

McGraw's catching staff that year consisted of Earl Smith and Frank Snyder as mainstays, and Alex Gaston, John Kernan and John Anderson.

The outfield list included Bill Cunningham, Emil Meusel, Jimmy O'Connell, Casey Stengel, Ralph Shinners and the late Ross Young.

By the law of whatever you want to call it, this should be John McGraw's year to win the National league bunting. He has been forced to take the leaders' dust for three years, and that has been the limit for him.

McGraw won the first of a series of three pennants back in 1911. After repeating in 1912 and 1913, he was nosed out by the Boston Braves in 1914. The next year his team collapsed, and he finished last, only to lift the club to second place in 1916.

Then he stepped out and won the flag in 1917.

The next three campaigns found him finishing second, and then he started the four-year reign that carried him until the 1925 campaign. He finished second that year, fifth in 1926, and third last season.

John's due—so, look out!

Monessen High Trims Sewickly

Monessen high, with a well balanced team, defeated Sewickley high last night at the Pitt stadium by a score of 47 to 33, in the W. P. I. A. L. tourney games. It was the last game of the first round of play.

Monessen high will meet Fifth Avenue high of Pittsburgh at the stadium court on Saturday, and the winner of this clash will play the winner of the New Castle-Monaca match on next Tuesday night.

Tonight at the Pitt stadium floor the New Castle and Monaca teams will start the second round of play. On Thursday night at the stadium the Duquesne team will meet Connellsville high in the second round of the pairings. Connellsville drew a bye in the first round and Duquesne won the right to meet them by topping Dormont high.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 7.—After a firm opening, in which leading stocks in the motor and industrial divisions sold fractionally higher, the market encountered heavy profit taking in the early trading today, and prices declined 1 to 3 points.

A break of 2½ cents a pound in crude rubber prices, bringing the nearby deliveries to 26 cents a pound, was responsible for the heavy selling of the tire and rubber stocks. U. S. Rubber declined 3 points to the year's low of 40¼, completing a loss of 23 points from the high of last month.

General Motors continued in the leadership of the bull move in the motors and industrials. The stock sold at 150¾ at the opening, but heavy offerings in the first half-hour forced it back to 148½. Shorts in Greene Cananea and Hudson Motors had an unpleasant hour as the former stock was whipped up 5 points to 129½, and the latter to the year's high price of 89. Radio, U. S. Steel and other well known speculative leaders sold within a fraction of Tuesday's close.

PLACE CHARGE AGAINST DRIVER

Frank Geiger of Wampum this morning was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor by Chief of Police C. C. Horner at the office of Alderman J. Lee Cooper as a result of an accident occurring last night in the seventh ward district.

Officer Hagan arrested Geiger last night after he had driven his car into two machines of Ben Kubinsky, 23 South Liberty street, which were parked in front of the Kubinsky place.

Geiger claimed to the police that he had been en route south on South Liberty street when he saw a car coming in the opposite direction, not leaving plenty of room for Mr. Geiger to drive between it and the parked cars. Mr. Geiger claims to have been en route home from Youngstown when the accident occurred.

Enter Second Week Of Meetings At East Brook U. P. Church

Evangelist Peacock Drawing Larger Crowds As Meetings Progress

As the special evangelistic meetings at the East Brook United Presbyterian church enter into the second week interest continues to grow and each evening a large crowd are attracted by the plain spoken messages of the Rev. L. K. Peacock, D. D.

On Tuesday evening, Dr. Peacock preached on the subject of "Christ Can Save to the Uttermost," saying that the Savior can save sinners no matter how deep they are in sin. He vividly told how Christ can save from murder and hatred, adultery and impurity, profanity, Sabbath desecration, gambling, drunkenness and all sins no matter how subtle.

In speaking of gambling, he said that those who play to win a blanket, an electric lamp or a doll baby at the fairs are just as much gamblers as the worst card shark. And quoting Christ he said that he who had hate in his heart was guilty of murder and that many a person has committed adultery in their hearts.

Jaworski's Fate May Be In Hands Of Jurors Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—The fate of Sam Jaworski, member of the "Flathead Gang" of payroll bandits, will be placed in the hands of a jury of seven women and five men this afternoon, it was indicated.

Jaworski, brother of Paul Jaworski, leader of the gang, who shot his way out of the county jail while awaiting electrocution for slaying a payroll guard, is on trial on six counts in connection with his part in his brother's escape.

Though Jaworski has been identified as the man who smuggled guns into his brother, on the witness stand he claimed that at the time of the escape he was playing golf in Detroit.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

There are larger newspapers in the United States than the New Castle News, plenty of them, but I doubt if any newspaper in the country has as many friends to the 1000 subscribers. Not just friendly acquaintances but friends who really have the welfare of the paper at heart and want to put in a boost for it whenever they get a chance.

Got a letter this morning from Charley Read, who makes his coffee and cakes by managing the sales department of the Shenango Pottery. Charley and his wife are in Santa Barbara, Cal., at the present time, soaking up a lot of climate, and telling people what a fine city New Castle, Pa., is.

The letter mentions that they were in the movies recently and Topics of the Day, which is a news reel feature, flashed two wise cracks from the News. They did not come from this colyum so this can be said. And I hope Charley doesn't decide to stay out in California. We need his kind of folks here in New Castle.

Missed a good thing last night but then one can't get them all. The students of the Franklin Junior High school presented a play which according to a telephonic report this morning was considerable of a success. All of which is not hard to believe for the students of the New Castle school system have the habit of doing things well.

I wonder if anybody will get sore at this paragraph? Every special train that goes down to Pittsburgh usually brings back a bunch of the boys in rather boisterous spirits. The reason of course is that in the exuberance of a victory they celebrate with a vim, but unfortunately there have been occurrences which reflected upon the high school. Of all the fans in the city I don't know one who would intentionally cast any reflection upon the school or the city. Now tonight if we win, and we should, let's wait till we get back to New Castle before doing any unusual celebrating.

Got a tough assignment for tonight. Oh very tough. Have to go down to Pittsburgh to the New Castle-Monaca basketball game to get the news back by telephone. You remember the story of the old fellow who said he had to take gin for his cold, and "gosh how he he hated it".

Somebody has certainly crossed up the weather man. January and February had all the appearances of Spring, and now comes March with a flareback of winter that looks like "them good old days of '88".

The youngsters of North street who have achieved distinction get their rewards Thursday night when the annual banquet of the school is held. The nice part of their reward plan is that everybody who achieves something is remembered. Not only athletics, but studies, and it seems to me that this system is the fairest thing you could ask. Everybody can't be a good football player, and because a youngster is small and undersized is no reason why he won't make good in some line other than sports.

Great Britain Sends Ultimatum To Egypt

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 7. — With war clouds hovering over the Near East, Great Britain has sent a new ultimatum to the Egyptian government according to a Central News dispatch from Cairo today.

The new note is reported to state that Great Britain will not tolerate the introduction of any laws calculated to hamper the British administration in Egypt or so worded as to hinder British officials in their duty to protect foreigners. The note further insists upon the maintenance of British control in the Egyptian army by the presence of British troops.
